Lincoln Pilot Shot Down By Red Guns

Lt. Lyle Cameron Identified As Flier Seen Parachuting Into Enemy Territory

A resident of Lincoln, Lt. Lyle W. Cameron, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland G. Cameron, 5102 Garland St., was listed in an Associated Press dispatch from Tokyo Thursday as the pilot of an F-84 jet shot down by Chinese anti-aircraft fire.

Mr. Cameron told The Star he received a telegram Sunday notifying him that his son was missing in action, and received a letter Wednesday stating that the Lieutenant was seen parachuting from his disabled plane over North Korean territory.

The letter said the pilot was seen to land safely and take cover, Mr. Cameron said.

Eight Jets

According to the Associated Press, Peiping Radio Friday claimed that eight of the U. S. jets bombed and strafed Manchuria on Oct. 26. The Red Radio identified the pilot shot down as Lt. Cameron.

Lt. Cameron was reported to be of the Ninth Squadron, 49th Group, Fifth Air Force.

The report from Peiping Radio was the latest in a long series of Chinese Communist claims of Allied violations of the air over China.

Mr. Cameron said he last heard from his son in a letter dated Oct. 20, and that Lt. Cameron was home last July just before leaving for Korea.

Lt. Cameron entered the Air Force about 22 months ago, and was graduated as an officer and pilot at Bryan Air Force Base, Texas, last March.

Prison Riot Stalemated

. . . In Fourth Day

CHESTER, Ill. (INS)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson is flying here Thursday night in a dramatic effort to end a four-day rebellion of 342 convicts at Menard State Prison.

The Democratic nominee is scheduled to arrive in St. Louis about 2:50 a.m. (CST), and then drive the 85 miles to Chester.

Gov. Stevenson was quoted as saying:

"I feel responsible for anything that might happen. I have been elected governor of Illinois and feel it is my responsibility to do anything I can to help matters out at the prison."

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Mutinous convicts and officials reached a stalemate Thursday in negotiations to end a rebellion at Menard State Prison as seven starved and haggard hostages began their fourth day without food.

A series of parleys with the 331 unruly convicts blasted hopes expressed by acting Gov. Sherwood Dixon for an early end to the uprising.

The rebel convicts sent word to Dixon they would release the six guards and a prison lieutenant seized in the original outbreak Monday only if he met 12 demands without question.

Later they modified this by agreeing to withdraw demands, such as one calling for relaxation of state parole regulations, that would require legislative action.

Won't Consider It

Robert Rees, information director of the State Department of Public Safety, said "it is quite obvious the acting governor will not dignify this message with a reply."

"It is impossible even to consider it," Rees said. "Acceptance would be tantamount to complete surrender."

Three officials were permitted to see the seven hostages, who were brought to the entrance to the besieged cell block one or two at a time, escorted by convicts armed with clubs.

It was not known just how much food the convicts bottled up in the east cell block have had. Prison authorities theorized they have had little other than candy bars and peanuts from the commissary, purchased before the outbreak and stored in their cells.

General Charges Slander

Ike Says Campaign Is Just Plain 'Dirty'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. D. Eisenhower cut loose Thursday night at President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson with an accusation that they are slandering him without restraint.

Given a thunderous ovation in jammed Madison Square Garden, Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, declared the campaign being waged by the Democrats was just plain "dirty."

In the text of his speech released in advance, Eisenhower termed it "the most surrilous campaign in American political history." He also said the Democrats have been spreading "vile rumors" and had played "fast and loose with the truth."

Crowd of 23,000

However, these phrases were dropped in his actual delivery. An aid said this was due to cutting necessary to make the speech fit the allotted time.

Police declined to estimate the crowd's size but Garden Custodian Edward Miller said 23,000 persons packed the huge arena.

Actor William Gaxton, master of ceremonies, told the crowd many more had been turned away.

Eisenhower did not call the President and Stevenson by name, but he left no doubt he was talking about them.

In angry language, Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, declared that in his life time he has been worked over by "poison pen" experts in Nazi Germany and Russia.

Demos Make Same Charge

"But until our success in this campaign drove our opponents to desperation, no one had ever engaged in such unrestrained slander as to charge I would trim my principles to run for office," he added.

Both Truman and Stevenson, along with some other Democrats, have made precisely that charge against the general.

Earlier, in a day long tour of New York City, Eisenhower called attention to the firing Thursday of an official of the Democratic National Committee, who stood to profit from a government purchase of tungsten ore.

Eisenhower called him "the biggest five per center of all" and said:

"They had to fire him last night because someone else caught up with him. It keeps going on and on . . . Is that the kind of government you put your trust in?"

N. Y. Area Climax

Eisenhower's Madison Square Garden address climaxed three days of campaigning in the New York area in a bid for the state's important bloc of 45 electoral votes.

Speaking during the day in Staten Island, Manhattan and Brooklyn, the general had rapped back hard at Stevenson, declar-

Halloween Fears Add To Fire Threat

Fire-wary city fathers all over Nebraska Friday were shoring up their defenses and readying their already-frayed nerves for the additional hazard Halloween pranksters are expected to add to the serious fire threat.

In Lincoln Thursday Mayor Victor Anderson declared that an emergency exists and a joint declaration by the Mayor and Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster was issued warning citizens that persons burning leaves and trash in either open yards or faulty incinerators may be prosecuted.

A total of six weed and grass fires occurred in Lincoln Thursday, making a total of more than 200 fires for the month, more than were registered in any three months in 1951.

Early Friday morning a Burlington Railroad crew was called out to extinguish a grass and weed fire along the Burlington tracks about half way between Lincoln and Waverly. The fire burned an area about a half-mile long between the tracks and Highway 6.

The fact that there was no wind was credited with keeping the fire from spreading. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

At Hastings members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce have volunteered to patrol the city Friday night to watch for fires which might be started by Halloween pranksters, and in Falls City residents were asked to call the fire or police departments before starting any trash fires.

In Omaha in a 24-hour period from midnight Tuesday to midnight Wednesday 52 of 58 fire calls involved weeds or dry leaves, and one man was fined $50 and costs after being convicted of setting fire to weeds in a vacant lot in face of a fire department ban.

Meanwhile, Frederick J. Adams, president of the Fontenelle Forest Association, announced that the Forest Preserve has been closed because of the fire hazard and that only groups with specific permission would be allowed in the park.

Judging from the weather outlook, there is not much hope of alleviation of the fire threat. There will be a scattering of clouds Friday and Friday night, but there is no promise of rain.

But the state's drought has at least one blessing.

Observers pointed out Thursday that never in history has the state's corn crop been in better condition for storage on the farm due to dry weather keeping down the moisture content.

And, because of this dryness, actual loss from grain deterioration will be slight, even though some corn is not immediately stored due to the shortage of grain cars.

However, the car shortage is expected to affect elevators operating on a commission for corn sold.

Nebraska grain interests, railroad representatives and State Railway Commission members agreed recently to make a plea to the Interstate Commerce Commission for more grain cars.

Costello Convicted

KANSAS CITY (INS)— John T. Costello, a Democratic leader, was found guilty Thursday by a Federal Court Jury of two counts of income tax evasion.

The former assistant to William M. Boyle Jr., when Boyle was chairman of the Democratic National Committee, will be sentenced later by Judge Albert M. Reeves.

Costello was convicted of failing to report part of his income in 1945-46. Government witnesses testified some of it was fees for state income tax "adjustments."

Damage From Fire Runs Into Uncounted Millions

Rampage Most Destructive In Many Years; Million Acres Have Been Burned Over So Far

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—A grass fire, swept by a 40-mile an hour wind whipped across two square miles of Joplin Thursday and threatened additional areas of this city of 37,000 population. Other fires, fed by tinder-dry grass were reported as firemen were busy at the main blaze.

Outdoor America's autumn enemy—fire—is on the broadest, most destructive and potentially most dangerous rampage in many years, a survey showed Thursday.

Reports from tinder dry states in much of the Eastern half of the nation showed that nearly a million acres of rich timberlands, brush and grasslands have gone up in flame and smoke this month.

Damage runs into uncounted millions of dollars and the situation is more explosive now than it was at the start of the month.

An Associated Press survey showed Louisiana alone has lost over a million dollars worth of forests and that at least three other states report more than a million dollars damage each — Mississippi, Illinois and Indiana.

Officials have been unable to hazard even a guess of the damage in hard-hit Tennessee, where the worst fires in the state's history are raging uncontrolled.

Some 100,000 acres of timberland in Tennessee's Cumberland plateau were ablaze Thursday in 48 separate fires and Evan M. Pitt, assistant state forester, said nothing but heavy rain was likely to bring them under control.

But the U. S. Weather Bureau said no general rain is in sight to break the drought that dates back to mid-August in many states.

New fires sprang up and ran out of control in Missouri, south of St. Louis. Stiff winds and a heavy smoke pall hampered fire fighting efforts in Missouri, which is experiencing its biggest rash of fall fires on record.

Another Missouri field fire roared out of control near Clinton, spread to nearby timber and consumed several farm houses Friday. Highway workers were sent to the scene with bulldozers.

A smoke pall also lay over much of the Southeast.

Iowa farmers were plowing fire breaks around their corn fields to prepare for the worst fire hazard in memory in that state.

The survey showed thousands of weary professional and volunteer fire fighters were working around the clock at times to bring fires under control.

West Virginia alone has 4,000-5,000 persons fighting fires and many other states had more than 1,000 fire fighters each engaged at this task.

Despite their efforts, houses, barns and crops have disappeared in flames. Many small towns have been threatened. Foresters, troops, guardsmen, farmers, townspeople and school children have joined in the battle.

Aside from the fire damage, the long drought has burned out much of the winter wheat crop in the Plains states and scorched Southern pastures, forcing the slaughter of cattle.

Pentagon Wants A Bigger So. Korean Armed Force

Expansion Consistently Supported During Past Year And Half; Commander's Complaint Answered

WASHINGTON (INS)—Defense Secretary Lovett declared Thursday night that the Pentagon has for the past year and a half consistently and aggressively supported expansion of a South Korean Army.

Lovett made the statement in reply to complaints from Eighth Army commander Gen. James Van Fleet, reported by Gen. Eisenhower, that he had received "little encouragement and never an approval" for development of ROK replacements.

At the same time, a spokesman for President Truman branded "untrue and utterly false" a published report that the chief executive has ordered Van Fleet's recall.

A letter from the Korean commander to a Washington friend was read Wednesday night by Eisenhower in support of the Republican standard-bearer's charge that South Koreans are not being trained as rapidly as possible.

Need For Leadership

Lovett said the "primary limiting factor" has been the need for development of "adequately trained Korean leadership and revealed that Van Fleet's plan to double the ROK army of 10 divisions was originally rejected by Gen. Ridgway when he was commander-in-chief in Tokyo.

The defense secretary said that Gen. Mark Clark, who succeeded Ridgway, has since recommended expanding the South Korean forces and this course has been approved by the Pentagon.

Lovett said the increase will be "by a certain number of divisions and several additional regiments."

He also read a message sent Van Fleet by Ridgway in April, 1951, which declared that the basic objective should be the transfer of responsibility of security of Korea to the ROK army "at the earliest practicable date."

PROMPT DENIAL

The Departments of Defense and the Army also jointly denied the report, published by the New York Daily News, that President Truman had ordered Van Fleet relieved because of the controversial letter.

The defense secretary, in a late news conference, then read a lengthy reply to the Van Fleet letter.

Lovett said: "It is clear that for the past year and a half the Department of Defense has consistently and aggressively supported an expansion of the ROK Army. The primary limiting factor throughout has been the necessity of developing adequately trained Korean leadership."

The Pentagon chief took the secret stamp off several joint chiefs of staff documents to prepare his four-page reply.

He revealed that Van Fleet's recommendations for 20 ROK divisions was received last April by Ridgway, who is now supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Forces in Europe.

Lovett said: "Gen. Ridgway, in commenting to Washington on Gen. Van Fleet's proposal, stated that in the preceding eight months, Korean leadership and training had greatly improved, but that the training program for a 10-division army was only then beginning to bear fruit.

"Gen. Ridgway therefore recommended that the number of divisions in the Korean Army be retained at 10 for the time being, but that the army be strengthened and increased by the necessary auxiliary supporting units which it had previously lacked.

Sound Program

"The Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Secretary of Defense approved Gen. Ridgway's position."

The statement said that when Gen. Clark went to Tokyo to succeed Ridgway last May, both Lovett and Army Secretary Frank Pace Jr., emphasized to him the need for "expanding the strength of the South Korean Army and the advisability of replacing some U. S. and other U. N. troops with South Koreans as early as practicable."

Lovett said: "The soundness and effectiveness of our program is attested by the fact that today there are more South Korean troops in front line combat than U. S. and other U. N. forces . . . and by the brilliant success in combat of a number of South Korean divisions during the recent fighting."

Lovett and other defense chiefs worked all day and into the early night hours preparing the statement after Eisenhower had exploded his bombshell.

The Van Fleet letter had been written to Maj. Gen. Orlando C. Wood in Washington Oct. 10, and was released to the Republican candidate by Mrs. Van Fleet.

In Korea, Van Fleet refused comment.

Stevenson Tries End Rebellion

Leaves Train For Flight To Scene

From Press Distpatches

PITTSBURGH — Gov. Adlai Stevenson dramatically broke off his presidential campaign and flew to Chester, Ill., Thursday night in an attempt to end the four-day-old rebellion of 350 convicts at Menard state prison.

The presidential candidate said that he hoped he could rejoin the campaign train Friday and added:

"My purpose is to confer on the spot with my associates who have been handling this difficult situation."

Stevenson's plane left the Greater Pittsburgh Airport at 11:55 p.m. (CST).

Will Continue

A spokesman for Stevenson said "we are going to continue the itinerary with Sen. Fullbright (D-Ark) filling in for the governor."

Stevenson said he would fly to St. Louis and go by auto the rest of the way to the prison riot scene at Chester, Ill. The plane trip will take about three hours and 10 minutes and the auto trip about one hour.

Sevenson's statement, as read by a spokesman, Victor Sholis, said:

"Directly after the meeting in Pittsburgh, this evening, my participation in the campaign trip will be suspended while I go to Menard Penitentiary at Chester, Ill.

"I shall rejoin the train as soon as circumstances permit and I hope and expect that will be some time Friday.

'Great Masquerade'

The surprise decision came after a major address in Pittsburgh in which he charged that the Republican "Great Crusade" has become the "Great Masquerade" and again accused Gen. Eisenhower of changing his views to suit his audiences.

The Democratic presidential nominee coupled the charges with the accusation that the GOP is either opposing Democratic programs or singing "Anything you can do, I can do better."

More than 11,000 persons, jammed in Pittsburgh's Hunt Armory, roared their approval as the Illinois governor assailed Eisenhower for embracing Sen. Taft and what Stevenson called the Republican "old guard."

Stevenson lashed out also at Republican criticism of the Democrats' record on Communism, saying: "I'm tired, frankly, of having a few little men, men whose ambition consumes their integrity, accuse the Democrats of being soft towards Communism."

Then—as he did in Pennsylvania whistle-stops earlier in the day—he questioned which party saved Greece and Turkey from the Communists, sponsored the Marshall and Point Four plans, who "faced up to the Communists in Berlin."

"Was it the Republican old guard?" he demanded.

"No," yelled his audience.

Economic System

Stevenson declared Communism will never grow in this country so long as "our economic system works as it should" and then attacked the Republicans for opposing what he called Democratic programs for progress.

The Democratic candidate lambasted Eisenhower also for his association with Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, saying:

"As for fighting Communists at home he seems to view with no

Union Damage Suit Asks Total Of $1,250,000

OMAHA — The CIO Amalgamated Lithographers of America Thursday filed a $1,250,000 damage suit against the Epsen Lithographing Co. of Omaha.

The petition alleges that the firm has been using an "imitation" of the union's label on its products. The ALA struck the plant July 25 and has been picketing it since.

The petition also stated that such use was intended "to convey the impression that the defendant's product is produced by means of the plaintiff's union."

David Lathrop, attorney for the union, said Nebraska law gives a union a "cause of action to recover all profits which the defendant has obtained by use of the label."

Edward Epsen, president of the firm, said he would not be able to make a statement until he had read the petition.

Vishinsky's 'Peace Plan' Turned Down

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—British Delegate Selwyn Lloyd Thursday turned down Andrei Y. Vishinsky's proposals for a new U. N. commission to settle the Korean War.

In a speech to the U. N. Political Committee, Lloyd denounced the demand repeated by Vishinsky for prompt repatriation, upon a cease fire, of 121,000 prisoners held by the U. N. force.

The British delegate said in a stern voice that "it would be a crime against humanity to treat these men in such a way."

But in line with Britain's known desire to bridge the East-West gap as much as possible, Lloyd said he assumed all delegates in the U. N. wanted to end the "slaughter and the suffering."

He appealed to everyone not to hold up a solution because of "some feeling of prestige or the necessity for face-saving."

Intruder Chased Away By Woman's Screams

An intruder at the home of Mrs. Bernice Stoeger, 5042 Sherwood, was frightened away early Thursday by Mrs. Stoeger's screams.

Mrs. Stoeger told police officers she was in bed when she heard the front door open. Thinking it was her husband she was not alarmed, until the person came to the bedroom door.

She saw it was not her husband and screamed, causing the intruder to turn and flee.

She told officers nothing was missing from the house, and investigation revealed no trace of the intruder.

Nebraska Stands To Lose $50 Million In Tidelands Action

"A group of 18 Texas geologists and engineers has estimated the value of minerals under the disputed submerged lands off the gulf coast of the Lone Star State (Texas) at up to 80 billion dollars."—extract from the news columns of The New York Times of Sunday, October 26.

★

By JAMES E. LAWRENCE
Editor, The Lincoln Star

Nebraskans, along with the peoples of most of the 48 states, are experiencing difficulty in finding money to adequately finance education. Yearly the pressure for revenue to support the public schools in Nebraska and elsewhere increases.

This is one of the issues—possibly the most important or one of the most important questions—raised by the bitter controversy over the fabled riches of what is known as Tidelands (offshore) oil. The United States Supreme Court has said that that oil belongs to the American people—all of the American people—not merely the people of Texas, Louisiana and California. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has taken a position favoring legislation by Congress to quiet title to this oil in the three states. His party platform for the second time—first in 1948 and now again in 1952—commits the party to congressional action to give three states the vast royalties and the bonus paid for leasing rights from this offshore oil. Gov. Adlai Stevenson has taken an unequivocal position of opposition. "That oil," the governor of Illinois said, not in New England nor Nebraska but deep in the heart of Texas, "belongs to all the American people."

☆ ☆ ☆

A conservative estimate suggests that the public schools of Nebraska, many of them now subsisting on slim financial fare, stand to lose in royalties that would come to this state over the years ahead, not less than 50 million dollars. The effect in a practical sense upon education in this state, if Gen. Eisenhower succeeds in persuading the American people to give him a friendly Congress and to place him in the White House, will be to deprive education here in Nebraska of money that could be used for improved physical facilities, better pay for teachers, or possibly for reducing the present school tax burdens.

☆ ☆ ☆

How does that come about? At the very lowest estimate, the offshore oil—that is, the oil beneath the waters offshore from Texas, Louisiana and California—has been valued at 40 billion dollars. We wired the Associated Press Bureau in Washington to remove any doubt as to what royalties on that oil would be. This is the reply which came back:

"Washington D. C.
October 23

Oil lands beneath marginal seas now being leased by California, Texas and Louisiana. Royalty on Gulf of Mexico leases is 12½ per cent. California royalties range up to 33⅓ per cent. In some instances, oil companies also pay bonuses on competitive bidding basis. Royalties and bonuses being held in escrow pending settlement state vs. federal ownership controversy.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS"

There have been columns written and millions of words spilled about the "mess in Washington." Here is a mess on a truly gigantic scale.

The United States Supreme Court handed down a unanimous decision (7-0, two justices not sitting) in the Louisana case.

The court's finding in the California case was a 6-to-2 decision, one justice not participating. The court's finding in the Texas case was a 4-to-3 decision, two justices taking no part. The split in the Texas case grew out of a defense by the state of Texas based upon treaty rights at the time it entered the Union.

Here is Congress by congressional act nullifying a judicial process.

When the Tidelands bill was in Congress last summer, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, opposing passage of the measure to return the offshore oil to Texas, Louisana and California, introduced an amendment earmarking the royalties for division among the 48 states for the purposes of education. The Hill amendment was defeated. The Tidelands bill passed both branches through a coalition of conservative Republicans and southern Democrats, was vetoed by President Truman and died when an attempt to override the President's veto was abandoned. Asked by former Gen. Pat Hurley, now a candidate for the United States Senate, why the attempt to override the President's veto was given up, former Attorney General Walter Johnson of Nebraska told a subcommittee of the platform drafters that no attempt to beat the veto was made because the forces back of the legislation were afraid they did not have enough votes.

☆ ☆ ☆

It can be called an appeal to fear or any other name. But the issue of Tidelands oil is in this campaign. Oil always muddies any campaign in which it makes itself heard. One of the first attempts of a new Congress will be to send a new Tidelands oil bill to the new President of the United States for signature. The Hill amendment did not establish a formula to distribute these royalties among the 48 states. Presumably something similar to the allotment of federal funds for highways will be devised. It could be on the basis of population, school districts, and school population. In any event, Nebraska's interest in this matter can be tagged a 50-million-dollar interest—which in terms of Nebraska education is a whale of a lot of dough!

Gen. Eisenhower has said that he will sign a Tidelands bill.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson has told the American people he will not sign a Tidelands bill.

☆ ☆ ☆

Of course there are the questions in this age of oil of conserving Uncle Sam's last great natural reserve of oil under the watchful eye of Uncle Sam. There is the question of national security. There is the matter of careful development inasmuch as generally the states afford the big oil giants a better opportunity to hog the leases. But there it is in its simplest details—a rich prize—in a presidential campaign.

Probers Say Dunlap Held Tax Data Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators said Thursday that Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap had ignored a congressional subpoena to produce certain tax information. They indicated they would make an issue of his action.

Top members of a House judiciary subcommittee which is investigating tax irregularities said Dunlap also had refused to appear at a subcommittee meeting when the subpoena deadline expired at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Chairman King (D-Calif) and Rep. Kean of New Jersey, ranking Republican member, said in a joint statement "we wish to make it clear we are not going to be denied information vital to our work in improving revenue administration and we will not permit anyone, no matter his position, to impede our investigation."

Oliphant Involved

King and Kean said Dunlap had been directed to produce transcripts of telephone conversations in a multi-million dollar tax refund case involving Universal Pictures, Inc., of Hollywood.

The conversations were held by Charles Oliphant, chief counsel for the revenue bureau, who resigned under fire last December.

In 1947 Universal requested a 20 million dollar refund for excess profits taxes paid between Nov. 1, 1940, and Oct. 31, 1946. Although a New York revenue agent recommended approval of this amount the statement said, the case was settled in 1949 for less than two million dollars.

'Voter Must Seek A Change'–Former Wife Of Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP)—The former wife of Democratic Presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson said Thursday night that "the American voter must now seek a change of government or be himself changed "into something new and strange. . ."

Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson, in effect, called upon voters to vote for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in Tuesday's election. She previously had announced her intention to vote Republican.

In a statement, Mrs. Stevenson said:

"Although I have been unable to answer individually the hundreds of letter addressed to me by worried Americans from all parts of the United States, I felt that I owe an answer to all those who have cared enough to write to me. The record is confused enough. It would be sinful for me to add to that confusion at this critical time.

"For 20 years I have been in close contact with Democrats and have voted for the Democratic party. In my humble opinion the American voter must now seek a change of government or be himself changed 'into something new and strange'—and contrary to the ideals that have made us the great free country that we must continue to be. A train jumping its tracks is not a symbol of freedom.

"If words should become more important than deeds, democracy will find that the English sentence has become a sentence of death. Pocket-book prejudices and pin-up principles are not enough. This is no time to be swayed by class hatred and party politics.

"I pray, whether my personal opinion is right or wrong, that the wisdom and the common sense of the American people will prevail."

The Stevenson's were divorced in 1949. They have three sons, Adlai II, John and Borden. She and the governor were married in 1928.

Eisenhower Victory Is Predicted By Head Of New Jersey Insurance Firm

Eisenhower is going to win.

Ralph R. Lounsbury, president of the Bankers National Life Insurance Company of New Jersey, made that prediction to The Star Thursday night. Lounsbury is in Lincoln to address the Nebraska Insurance Institute to be held on the University of Nebraska campus Friday and Saturday.

And if he doesn't win, Lounsbury said, "God help us!"

Lounsbury stressed that as an individual he is strongly opposed to the Truman Administration and its record. Gov. Adlai Stevenson, he said, has assumed second place in the Democratic campaign—something admitted by Truman himself.

'Didn't Work'

Stevenson started out trying to be independent of Truman, Lounsbury said, but it didn't work. Then he permitted Truman to enter the campaign and was pushed into the background.

Lounsbury, a native of Aurora, who is a member of the five-man Salary Stabilization Board in Washington, declared the nation must return to a sound fiscal policy. No real effort, he said, has been made in recent years to balance the budget.

A major issue Americans will face on Nov. 4, he said, is government intrusion into private lives of individuals.

That, he said, is what he resents most about 20 years of Democratic rule.

As an insurance man, he said he is proud to be a member of an industry that is "one of the foundations of the free enterprise system." He praised Nebraska for having some of what he termed the biggest insurance companies in the nation.

Lounsbury was once state actuary for Nebraska and has served as an advisor to the Federal Reserve Board.

National networks:

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregan, speaking for Gov. Adlai Stevenson from New York, over ABC-TV.

Nazi Official Given 'Life'

BERLIN (AP)—Heinrich Schwind, 62, former Nazi Ghetto official at Lodz, Poland, was given a life sentence at hard labor by a West Berlin court Thursday. He was found guilty of having shot or otherwise caused the death of eight Jewish inmates. Originally he was blamed for the deaths of 71 Jews.

disfavor the program of Sen. McCarthy—a program which catches more headlines than Communists."

Stumping for Pennsylvania's 32 electoral vote, the Democratic presidential candidate switched his campaign talks from the Korean War to the subject of business. He declared that "government and business must learn to live together in harmony, before an era of bad temper turns into something infinitely worse."

In his radio address, Stevenson pledged that if elected he will "work untiringly" to end the Korean War "so that our soldiers can return home."

Red Threat Greatest

The governor said he fears that GOP promises of a "quick and easy end of the Korean War may have delayed an armistice," adding:

"The Communists see in every sign of weakness a chance to win an advantage."

Stevenson told an estimated 10,000 persons at York that the Communist danger is the greatest threat the nation has faced since the dark days of 1776 when America was fighting for its liberties.

At Pottstown, the governor charged that his Republican opponent, Gen. Eisenhower, "swallowed Sen. Taft and the Old Guard . . . hook, line and sinker—and there are plenty of hooks on that line."

He told the crowd of 4,000 the Democrats are determined to prevent another depression and offer a workable program for doing so. He declared the Democrats do not believe in making promises they can't keep.

The governor claimed that American business has bigger profits "than ever before in history—not just before taxes but after taxes as well."

Stevenson added: "We must avoid at all costs the bitter struggle of class against class, which result inevitably in a drift either to the extreme left or to the extreme right."

The biggest crowd of the morning—10,000—turned out at Lancaster. There Stevenson accused his opponent of "going around the country, telling farmers that they are in eminent danger of losing their liberties," under Democratic farm program. "The opposite is the truth," Stevenson asserted.

Dixie Lee Same

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Dixie Lee Crosby, 40-year-old wife of Bing Crosby, continued to cling tenaciously to her fading life Thursday.

She has failed to emerge from the coma into which she lapsed last Tuesday and her physician holds out little hope that she will be able to win her battle against death.

Mrs. Crosby underwent a serious abdominal operation three months ago and suffered a relapse last Sunday.

Maintaining a bedside vigil are Bing and their four sons, Gary, 19, the twins, Dennis and Philip, 18, and Lindsay, 14.

Eisenhower

ing there is no easy way out of the Korean War—only a long, hard, way.

The GOP nominee told a police estimated crowd of 250,000 persons in Manhattan's garment district:

"No man has ever heard me say there is an easy way out of the Korean War. It's a long, hard, weary way."

His Democratic opponent has contended that Eisenhower and other Republicans have implied there is an easy way.

"They Were Mistaken"

"They thought I might be the man to defend governmental corruption, excuse their coddling of Communists, and apologize for their vacillating policies which have caught us in an inflation at home and a war abroad.

"How could they dare think I was their man?"

Declaring he has full confidence in the American people, Eisenhower added:

"I just do not believe that three months of dirty political campaigning will make them think that day is night or that a patent falsehood is true.

"I have made no deals in this campaign.

"No one has a claim on me.

"No one has a promise from me.

"No one has captured me.

"I am my own man."

Student Backers Of Stevenson Hold Rally, Make Plans

Students For Stevenson Thursday night made plans for the last few days of campaigning.

In the remaining few days the group will collect funds which will go toward sponsoring an unannounced speech by Democratic presidential candidate, Adlai E. Stevenson, president Don Knutsen said.

Leroy T. Laase, professor of speech and dramatic art at the University, outlined to the group what they could do in the campaign. After the meeting the students held a rally down O Street.

On election day members will do volunteer precinct work throughout Lincoln, Knutsen said.

Carroll reports that the POAN has to date enlisted close to 200 members.

Sparkman And Nixon Swap Stiff Political Punches

Demo Seeks Colorado Votes; Republican In His Home State

GREELEY, Colo. (INS)—Democratic vice presidential candidate John Sparkman Thursday labeled Gen. Eisenhower's statement about going to Korea an obvious scheme to get votes.

Sparkman spoke to a group of Colorado Democrats at Greeley.

Sparkman said a trip by Eisenhower to Korea would only be an inspection trip and would have a minor effect.

Said Sparkman: "The general must know that all of our chief military leaders have gone to Korea. Among the political leaders who visited the front lines were Vice President Barkley. I myself visited Korea last summer. John Foster Dulles has been there several times."

The nominee added: "The importance of these visits should not be minimized. But fundamental decisions affecting Korea are not being made in Korea. These decisions are being made in Moscow."

'Desperation' Charge

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Sen. Richard Nixon Thursday castigated the Democratic bid for votes in next Tuesday's election as "a campaign of vilification as low as any in American history."

The Republican vice presidential candidate declared that last-minute "tactics of desperation" by the Democratic party indicate the "other side is scared—afraid we are going to win and put some of their friends in jail."

Nixon spoke to more than 2,200 GOP precinct workers at the Ambassador Hotel before leaving Los Angeles in a final whirlwind motor tour of southern California.

Nixon, urging listeners to get the voters to the polls, told his cheering audience:

"It looks as though victory will favor the Republicans if you get out the vote."

Desks were ransacked in two rooms of the school building, but nothing was reported missing from them. Custodian M. E. Hunkins, 801 West A, estimated damage to be about $11, including a broken pane of door glass and splintered panes of wood in a door.

Hearing On State Agency Budgets To Start On Nov. 24

Hearings on proposed budgets of state agencies will start Nov 24, Paul Wagner, budget director for the governor, said Thursday. The governor has indicated that he will welcome the newly elected governor to attend the hearings with the possibility of a joint recommendation to the legislature.

The Department of Roads and Irrigation will be heard on their needs on Nov. 28 and Dec. 3 has been set aside for consideration of the budget of the University of Nebraska.

The outgoing and incoming governor both are required to make recommendations to the legislature either jointly or separately if they do not agree on needs.

Control Board Budget Submission Postponed

Mrs. Harold Prince, chairman of the Board of Control, Thursday said the board has postponed until next week submission of its biennium budget to Tax Commissioner Philip Johnson. The postponement, she said, was so that the board could make a final re-examination of its estimated maintenance costs for state institutions.

She indicated the budget may be ready at mid-week next week.

The Case For Walter Raecke

There is a most appealing blend of wisdom and common sense in the statement issued by Mr. Fred A. Marsh of Archer, bearing upon the gubernatorial campaign now drawing to a close.

★

We do not know what Mr. Marsh's politics are—not that it is a matter of importance in the selection of a Nebraska governor. Mr. Marsh is well-known in this state. His interest in education has been recognized for years. He served with distinguished ability as a member of the Board of Regents. He is a thoughtful man, kindly, neighborly, a man of highest qualities of character. In his anounced preference for Walter Racke of Central City, Mr. Marsh mentions the friendship that has existed since Mr. Raecke was a little boy, a friendship and pride that obviously have grown with the years.

★

"There are," Mr. Marsh wrote, "other factors favoring his (Mr. Raecke's) candidacy which should weigh with the average voter. He is considerably older than his opponent, has had a wider experience in dealing with public affairs, and has the maturity of judgment which only years can develop. I shall vote for him (Mr. Raecke) with mental reservations that if he is elected, I may have the privilege four years hence of voting for Mr. Crosby who will still be a young man to hold so important an office."

★

There is a refreshing, wholesome note in a campaign, which on the national level has filled the air with noise. The problems of state government do not lend themselves easily to partisanship. There is nothing partisan, or at least there should be nothing partisan, in the development of a highway system. There is nothing partisan in the capable, honest administration of the state institutions under the Board of Control. The board itself is non-partisan in its membership and in its functions. There is nothing partisan in educational progress in this state, in the development of the state's resources, in the responsibilities which rest upon state government; actually nothing partisan in making adequate but prudent appropriations to carry on the state's business.

★

Walter Raecke could be one of Nebraska's great governors — not merely one of its many good governors, for with some few exceptions, Nebraskans have been blessed with good state government. He is in the prime of physical and mental energy. He is old enough to avoid the temptation of impetuous decisions—on the score of age, mature enough and experienced enough to know his own mind and to be able to reach his own decisions. The type of individual who likes to pose as the counselor and the adviser of the governor may be cool to the Raecke candidacy because Mr. Raecke does his own thinking, but that trait should endear him to people generally. He has courage, a rare type of courage, a courage sufficient to express his own deep conviction even though to do so may cost him votes.

★

Nebraskans have discovered there are times when a man seems to possess those qualifications needed by the people of a state for a given period of development. That is the great appeal of Walter Raecke. He is simple in his tastes, sufficiently homespun in his approach to public affairs to be down to earth, a man of industry and competence, without pretense, political guile, and free from destructive political ambitions. Mr. Raecke will be exactly the same man after serving as governor that he is today. He will not become the victim of unsatisfied ambition. He will be at the desk where he belongs. He will put in his time serving his people. He will give agencies of government the attention they deserve. He will take to the office a broad, sure knowledge of the workings of the departments under him which few men possess.

★

Mr. Marsh said it. Walter Raecke has had a wide experience in dealing with public affairs. He does have a maturity of judgment which only years can develop. He has a singleness of purpose, a zeal for doing a job of quality and humble dedication. He reflects the best of that which Nebraskans have held in highest esteem.

Study In Courage

There seems to be some basis for the conclusion that a raw, overcast, late October day in 1952 may take its place in American political history.

★

It was on that day a man named Adlai Stevenson walked across a temporary platform in a little Pennsylvania town called Bethlehem. He passed within inches of where another man named Walter was seated, without speaking. Walter is a Democrat, a member of the Pennsylvania House delegation. He is co-author of the nation's new immigration bill, which Gov. Stevenson had denounced as "discriminatory." Rep. Walter had boarded the Stevenson train at Lehighton, had left with Mr. Stevenson's aides a letter outlining his views on the immigration bill. At Bethlehem the Democratic candidate for the presidency made no mention of a Democratic candidate for re-election to Congress. Stage stuff? Hardly. Here in view of thousands was a salute to honest conviction.

★

In less than an hour, Gov. Stevenson may have undone weeks of arduous campaigning—campaign labors from early in the morning until late at night. Who knows? If the vote in Pennsylvania turns out to be close—close enough to be decided by a few thousand votes one way or another—then conceivably the Walter incident may determine the result. That bloc of 32 electoral votes is one of the choice prizes of a campaign now drawing to a close. Naturally Rep. Walter's friends will bitterly resent Gov. Stevenson. Any orthodox politician would take offense. What the governor did simply is not done in politics.

★

By way of contrast, we have Gen. Eisenhower's record. When he left New York he was not going to permit Indiana's Sen. Jenner to board his train, but he wound up by endorsing Jenner and pleading for Jenner's re-election. When Gen. Eisenhower entered Wisconsin, he had two paragraphs in a speech praising his old friend, Gen. George C. Marshall, but upon the pleading of Sen. Joe McCarthy, the Republican candidate not only deleted those two paragraphs in defense of Marshall but gave McCarthy his rousing endorsement. One by one, Gen. Eisenhower has endorsed men with whom he has nothing in common — men who actually will make it impossible for Gen. Eisenhower to conduct a successful administration.

★

Out in the sparsely settled state of Nevada, a senatorial campaign is in progress which is even more tumultuous than the presidential campaign. A 31-year-old Democrat, Thomas B. Mechling, is pitted against reactionary Republican Sen. George W. (Molly) Malone, who went to Washington with the famous class of 1946. Joe McCarthy has taken a hand in this fight. He recently stalked into Nevada with every intention of helping his friend and colleague, Sen. Malone, but ended up calling a pro-Eisenhower Nevada editor an ex-Communist, at the same time putting his arm around Democratic Pat McCarran "as a man I love dearly."

★

Roscoe Drummond said that McCarthy's performance in Nevada had had the effect of alienating voters from Sen. Malone by the armful. "To be able to embrace Sen. McCarran with his left hand," Drummond added, "kick a pro-Eisenhower editor in the teeth with his right foot and try to give Sen. Malone a friendly boost at the same time may have seemed reasonable and easy to Joe McCarthy, but it left Nevada political waters more swirling than ever . . . If Republican Sen. Malone loses, a big assist can be credited to Republican Sen. Joe McCarthy."

★

What Gov. Stevenson did in Pennsylvania will long be remembered. What Joe McCarthy did in Nevada is something else again. What Gen. Eisenhower has done in calling for the election of any or all Republicans in Congress will rise to plague him in the event he wins. The day he decided upon a blanket endorsement of all Republicans the general lost.

General Against General?

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has placed a heavy tax upon the credulity of the American people.

★

Some days ago he proposed American troops be withdrawn from Korea, leaving Asiatic to fight Asiatic. That in itself has a subtle appeal to many, especially the relatives of men now in Korea. Now the general makes public a letter from Gen. James Van Fleet, written by Van Fleet to a friend in Walter Reed Hospital, apparently in critical spirit suggesting that the South Koreans should have been trained in greater numbers to replace other United Nations forces in the battle lines.

There ought to be a showdown on this one—a thorough-going airing of the whole business. To whom did Gen. Van Fleet appeal for a stepped-up or accelerated program of training the South Koreans—if actually he did take that position? Was it President Truman? Did Mr. Truman veto it? Was it the State Department? Did the State Department veto it? Was it the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the Pentagon, headed by Omar Bradley, and did Bradley and his associates veto it? Was it Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Van Fleet's immediate superior in command, recently replaced by Gen. Mark Clark? Did Ridgway receive it and veto it and if he rejected it why did he reject it?

★

Daily this campaign is taking on more absurd, possibly more tragic lines. For the guidance of the American people to help them in their thinking, since he made the letter public, Gen. Eisenhower owes it to the voter to disclose to whom Van Fleet appealed for a stepping-up in the training of South Korean forces. When was that appeal made? Why, if it was made, was it rejected? Fathers and mothers have a right to know and since Gen. Eisenhower has raised the question, perhaps he will be willing to tell all that he knows about it. He owes that much to the American people whose votes he is soliciting.

As early as last Sunday, Drew Pearson reported that Gen. Van Fleet had appealed to the Pentagon for permission to issue a statement praising the fight which the South Koreans have been making. Pearson or anyone will recognize that the turn which this presidential campaign is taking is injuring South Korean morale.

What are the facts—we mean the real, full facts—stripped of campaign bunk? For the first time since the turn of the century this campaign may array the judgment of one general or one group of generals against another general or another group of generals. It is time Eisenhower document his views more convincingly than to refer to a letter written by a military man to a brother officer in a hospital. Generals, along with a lot of people, sometimes write letters to which they give little thought.

Maverick Isolationists Pose Problem For Ike

WASHINGTON — During the latter years of his life, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, Republican, was troubled with severe headaches from the brain tumor which eventually brought his death.

Dropping in to see him late one afternoon, it was obvious Vandenberg was not feeling well and I remarked on it. He replied:

"These headaches aren't half as bad as those given me by some of my Republican colleagues in the Senate."

Vandenberg was then in the middle of his fight to put across appropriations for the Marshall Plan, and went on to explain that almost every night Republican isolationist senators were meeting privately to hatch their strategy against him. These senators he named as Jenner of Indiana, Kem of Missouri, Watkins of Utah, McCarthy of Wisconsin, Ecton of Montana, Cain of Washington, and Bricker of Ohio.

Vandenberg, who was cooperating with the Democrats on foreign policy in the same way I described earlier Republican Secretaries of State Frank B. Kellogg and Henry L. Stimson as cooperating with Democratic senators, finally won the Marshall Plan battle.

And in recognition of that service, Vandenberg's close friend, Paul Hoffman, a Republican and then head of Studebaker, was made top Marshall Plan administrator. It was a wise choice.

No factor played a greater part in stopping the march of Communism in Western Europe than the Marshall Plan. And I can say this as one who has been to Europe many times before and since the Marshall Plan, who helped end the paralyzing shipping strike at Le Havre with a load of Friendship Train food in the dark winter of 1947, who toured through railroad stations pock-marked with bullets from Communist rioting, and paraded through streets carrying American food before crowds which only a short time before had cheered the Communists.

For this stopping of Communism, Vandenberg, Hoffman, and the authors of the Marshall Plan deserve great credit.

☆ ☆ ☆

Paul Hoffman left the Marshall Plan to join the Ford Foundation and to head up the "Citizens-for-Eisenhower" committee. Believing that Eisenhower presented the best chance of retaining an even-keeled, non-partisan foreign policy, Hoffman was instrumental in getting the general nominated.

Since then, and since Eisenhower has embraced those same senators who caused Vandenberg headaches, Hoffman has been strangely silent.

So also has Gen. Omar Bradley, who stormed the Normandy beachheads and, along with Gen. Patton, bore the brunt of the advance through France and Germany. Once strong for Ike, Bradley has changed his mind.

Eisenhower, of course, is taking a calculated risk. He is risking a savage partisan attack on foreign policy, both in Korea and Europe, on the theory that after he wins he can crack the whip over the isolationist senators of his own party and keep them in line.

This will probably work for the first two years. But after the patronage runs out, after the jobs are filled, then the maverick isolationists of the GOP will be just as difficult for Eisenhower as they were for Vandenberg.

By and large history has shown, as Frank B. Kellogg and Henry L. Stimson so well knew, that Republican Presidents get better cooperation from Democratic senators than they get from their own party.

☆ ☆ ☆

—EISENHOWER AND SOUTH—

When Gen. Eisenhower first decided to invade the South, GOP Chairman Summerfield cautioned: "The only time to go South is in the winter."

A secret Republican poll now indicates that Summerfield was right. It states: "It is now doubtful whether Gen. Eisenhower will be able to carry more than two states in the South . . . Best information available shows that Eisenhower's popularity reached its highest during the period Oct. 1-15."

The two southern states are Florida and Virginia. In Florida, the GOP poll as of Oct. 22 showed Ike 50 per cent; Stevenson 45 per cent; 5 per cent undecided.

The Virginia GOP poll showed Ike 48 per cent, Stevenson 46 per cent, 6 per cent undecided.

—POLITICAL-GO-ROUND—

Anti-Dewey sentiment is still so strong inside the GOP that when Ike's train approached Rochester, N. Y., a GOP delegation from Monroe County demanded that Dewey not introduce the general. Finally it was agreed that Dewey should introduce GOP Congressman Ken Keating, then Keating would introduce Eisenhower . . . Sen. Charles Tobey of New Hampshire, the TV crime crusader, has decided not to take a walk on Eisenhower. But he passed out word in regard to any campaigning that he is "awfully busy." . . . Paul Walter, ex-campaign manager for Taft, is making an emergency tour of key cities to pep up the GOP operation. Walter did a terrific job for Taft before the convention . . . Probably the only woman who has two Senate candidates as brothers-in-law is Mrs. Jerry Wadsworth, wife of the deputy civil defense administrator. One brother-in-law is Stuart Symington, Democratic candidate for the Senate in Missouri; the other, Archibald Alexander, Democratic candidate for the Senate in New Jersey. Symington, who did a bang-up job as RFC administrator, seems sure to win. Alexander, who did an equally bang-up job as undersecretary of the Army, is a long-shot. An A-1 man, he isn't much of a campaign speaker .

MARQUIS CHILDS

It's End Or Beginning For Desperate Dewey

NEW YORK—The climax of this campaign is drama of an extraordinary kind. The personal fortunes, the pride and the prestige of so many of the actors are involved in the outcome. And the outcome appears to turn on intangibles, imponderables beyond the knowing of even veteran politicians.

For Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, twice the nominee of his party, the climax is a dividing line. It is either the end or a new beginning of a public career that has gone far on calculating intellect divorced almost entirely from the emotions that sway most human beings.

Perhaps because he knows it is all or nothing—the full stop to his driving ambition or a new lease on hope—Dewey has been unable to keep his emotions out of this contest. The sequence of the Dewey drama is as follows:

Act I was the Republican convention. In Chicago it was Dewey and his close friend, Herbert Brownell, who more than anyone else brought about Gen. Eisenhower's nomination. Having done a brilliant bit of political engineering, the cool imperturbable Dewey was indifferent to and may even have enjoyed the scorn heaped on him by Sen. Everett Dirksen, The Chicago Tribune's senator from Illinois.

During Act II Dewey was offstage. These were the weeks beginning with Eisenhower's meeting with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and going on through the Midwest from Sen. William Jenner of Indiana to Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin when it seemed to Dewey that his victory in Chicago had been completely nullified.

He has told close associates what an ordeal this was. It was a bitter and humiliating experience to be pushed into the wings and to wait with the growing conviction that the East, and particularly New York, had been sacrificed to the Midwest.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dewey told Eisenhower just that at the beginning of Act III—that while he might have gained the farm states he had probably lost New York. Eisenhower had returned to the East to show in the great population centers what those around him say is the "real Ike." And Dewey, now at his side, was determined in this last phase to assert his role, front and center.

In at least two instances the calculating Dewey was either caught off balance or he deliberately unleashed the fury of long pent-up emotions. First at Troy and then at Buffalo, he introduced Eisenhower with such a violent harangue as to make the general's pedestrian speech on inflation seem like a sad anti-climax.

In the violence of his attack on President Truman, Dewey seemed to step out of character. As the crowd wildly cheered he accused Gov. Stevenson and Truman of making a deal whereby Stevenson would run for President and Truman would go out behind the barn to find the manure to throw. He said that Truman could not be believed under oath.

☆ ☆ ☆

This may be put down to the frustration of those earlier weeks of waiting when Dewey was profoundly fearful the election was being lost. But it also can be related to an episode in the campaign of four years ago when Truman used the Nazi charge very much as he used it this time against Eisenhower. In his Chicago speech in 1948, perhaps the low point of that campaign, Truman sought to arouse the fear and suspicion of racial minorities by charging Dewey with sympathy for Nazi doctrines.

Ever since, Dewey has harbored the firce resentment he felt at that time. What is more, the charge may have served its purpose with the sensitive minorities in the big cities.

In these last scenes of the final act, Dewey insisted that Eisenhower tour hundreds of miles in the Empire State, routing him through suburban areas even when it was unlikely that crowds would be present to see the candidate. He urged Eisenhower to do a six or seven-hour talkathon on television similar to Dewey's effort in '48. But the candidate drew the line here, saying it was not the sort of thing he did well and that he had no heart for it.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is reported that Dewey has told Eisenhower he would like to be Secretary of Defense in an Eisenhower cabinet—for a year or a year and a half. In that time he would clean up the military department, ruthlessly cut away waste and insist on real unification. Then it is said his ambition, also communicated to Eisenhower, is to be Secretary of State.

This is, of course, if the Republicans carry this state. Dewey associates with Eisenhower boast of a GOP majority of 1,100,000 upstate which the Democrats cannot overcome in the city. But the governor, having seen the chimera of victory twice fade into the mists, is running scared.

Minden Sports 'Largest Rug In The World'

By MONA B. PARKER

Watch out for this one! Following the same cycle as feminine fashions, it's so old it's new again and has been netting for one Hastings trickster a sizeable number of sucker bets...

First he stirs up an argument about the campaign, a fairly easy thing to do at this point. Then he pretends to be against whichever candidate his friend is supporting, with: "I'll bet you a dollar that if your man is elected, every bank in the country will be closed within eight months."

Eight months' after November 4, happens to be July 4.

Two Alliance hunters blazed away at the same duck at the same time and a friendly argument ensued over who had scored the hit. Closer inspection revealed that both had hit their target...

A new disease seems to be prevalent in and around Benkelman. It's "pheasant sniffles." At least, that's what Dr. G. A. Morehouse has dubbed it. Numerous hunters in that area have contracted it from dusty fields and high weeds, plus perspiration brought on by the pursuit and then opening the car windows on the ride home and cooling off too rapidly. "If your hunter brought home a bird," guessed The Post, "he probably brought home a case of sniffles with it."

Fred A. Marsh offers a word of encouragement for his Central City Republican readers in comparing the present dry spell as "a mere infant" alongside the one which enveloped this region and continued up to January 27 of 1891 following a dry summer and fall in 1890.

After January 27, he recalled, "we had the heaviest fall of snow on record. The wet weather continued through the spring and summer of '91 and many fields, accustomed to grow crops, were taken over by cattails and rushes."

And then he concluded: "To say that Nebraska weather is as capricious as an old maid puts that lady in an unfair position."

☆ ☆ ☆

Editor Lally found an old clipping on his desk during fall housecleaning around the Bridgeport News Blade office, headlined: "Now Is The Time To Move Your Trillium." There wasn't any date on it, but he has the entire family, including the pup, out looking for his trillium. It must be important, he worries, because "the item had a two-deck, 30-point headline!"

Falls City's Dr. F. O. Slagle figures that in his long career he has been bitten by just about every kind of bird or animal that a veterinarian is called upon to treat, including dogs, cats, coons, horses and parrots. But he added a new one this week. He was trying to retrieve an instrument from a steer's throat, and the animal bit him on the finger.

The Lexington Sebergers have been trying out something new in the way of overalls. Mrs. Seberger told Dawson County Herald readers about it in her "Valley Views." The catalogue claimed "with vulcanized knees, guaranteed to last the lifetime of the overall," so with a what-can-we-lose attitude, she invested in two pair. Now, two months later and still no patching need evident, she's convinced it's a good deal. "What a boon vulcanized knees must be to a mother of, say, six boys!"

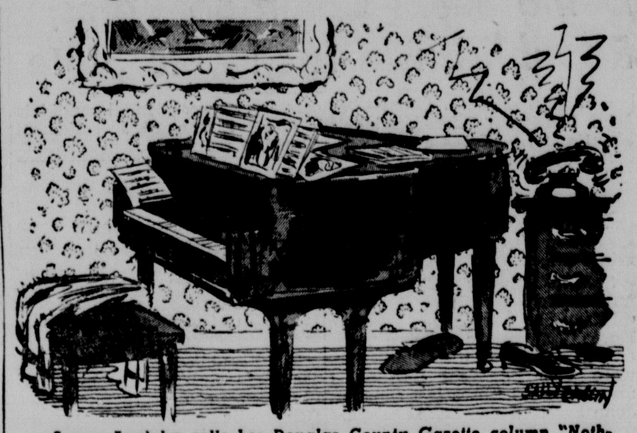
A Minden furniture store is using spectacular methods these days to demonstrate the wearing qualities of its rugs. They have obtained the "largest print-enamel rug in the world" and laid it along the sidewalk on the west side of the square, inviting the populace to walk over it for the next week. The covering is nine feet wide and 228 feet long, and barring any freak windstorm which might dislodge it from its moorings, the proprietor plans to give away a cut from the rug each day during a current sale.



Agnes Appleby calls her Douglas County Gazette column "Nothing Ever Happens" . . . and one wonders why . . .
"It wouldn't be our house if it didn't have:
A couple of pair of shoes in the living room—
A raisin package by the radio—
A dirty football towel drying somewhere—
The piano covered with music—
The ironing board set up—
A cat and two kittens at the back door—
An open book on the table by the bed—
The telephone ringing quite often—"

They Lived Here

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I can't forget Dick Nixon's use of expensive radio time and of time of busy citizen's to "explain" how he and his wife were too poor to buy postage stamps but not too proud to accept "handouts" from California because he himself couldn't afford to buy a "big house." And why does he need to live in a big house?

Nebraska's own Sen. George Norris lived in a rather dark and modest apartment in the Methodist Building across from the capitol.

Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, a person of gracious living, lived in the same building.

Sen. Edward Burke lived in a small apartment in the "Altamonte."

Congressman Charles McLaughlin has lived for years in a modest apartment house, the St. Albans, at 2310 Connecticut Ave.

Vice Pres. Alben Barkley lives in an apartment house where "all the world and his wife" can easily know what "visitors" might catfoot in and out to see him.

Sen. William Borah also lived there for years, and managed to be quite an international force.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith lives in modest Chevy Chase on Thornapple Street.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., lives in an apartment house at 3132 O Street.

Dean Acheson lives at 2805 P Street, N.W., where dozens of government workers also live.

William Howard Taft lived for years at 2215 Wyoming Ave., N.W., in a house like dozens in Lincoln.

Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Secretary of State Cordell Hull lived at the old Wardman Park Hotel.

But little Dick Nixon must live in a big house off the main arteries of approach to or exit from the active city of Washington!

Griswold Philosophy

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Ex-Gov. Griswold's "A Letter To Wayne, Somewhere In Korea," is certainly a wonderful morale builder for our soldiers. Army officers facing the Commies will probably want to copy it and distribute it to their troops to give them the real American fighting spirit, the same fighting spirit that buoyed up Stephen Decatur when he fought in North Africa, and Gen. John J. Pershing when he invaded Mexico.

Well, Washington had to struggle with the Tories, and Lincoln had the Copperheads. I suppose every time we fight the Communists anywhere under any condition, we'll have people complaining that it ought to have been done in another way and in some other place. But we should hardly expect to find it in a man who has served his state and nation so long and effectively and patriotically as has Dwight Griswold.

W. T. DAVIS

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Now comes Dwight Griswold declaring how "thrilled" he was with McCarthy's speech at Chicago. That is enough for me to know. He would become a senatorial bedfellow with McCarthy if elected senator, for, as a state legislative member, he voted for the Foreign Language Bill which the Supreme Court of our land declared unconstitutional. Two years later in the State Senate, he fathered Senate File 210 that would deny the right to vote to any man or woman who could not speak, read and write the English language.

We have one McCarthy in the United States Senate. We don't need two.

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

McCook Demo Advisor Told GOP For Low Farm Prices

Telegram Is Follow Up To Ike Wire

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—A top farm advisor to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson charged the Republicans Thursday with making "vituperative statements" and "half truths" about the Republican position on farm programs "because Gen. Eisenhower himself is entangled in a future committment to lower farm price supports."

The views were in a telegram from Oklahoma Gov. Roy J. Turner, sent to John T. Harris, McCook, Nebraska chairman of the Democratic committee for Agricultural Progress. Gov. Turner directs the agricultural division of Stevenson's campaign headquarters.

'Twisted Charges'

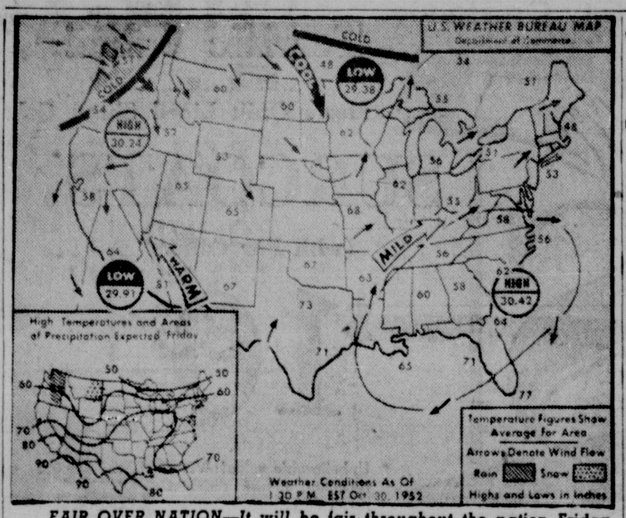
The wire followed up reports of a telegram which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sent earlier to Herbert Hughes, Imperial, Nebraska chairman of the Republican Farm Council. Eisenhower's wire referred to "twisted and false charges" that Republicans will cancel farm supports.

The wire said the Republican party "will maintain the present farm act which provides for price supports at 90 per cent of parity on basic commodities."

Gov. Turner's message to Harris said:

"The facts are these: The Republican platform came out strongly behind 60 to 90 per cent sliding scale. Fearful of losing the farm vote, the general and Congressional advisors devised a slick formula of having the general agree to the Democratic two-year extension of 90 per cent support for basic, but leaving himself free to restore the 60 per cent sliding scale immediately thereafter.

"Unhappily for Gen. Eisenhower, Robert A. Taft gave the game away after the general's surrender at Morningside Heights. Taft first announced to the press that he and the general saw eye to eye on farm problems and Taft is a low sliding scale price support advocate who stated that he would have voted against the two-year extension of 90 per cent support if he had been on the Senate floor.



FAIR OVER NATION—It will be fair throughout the nation Friday except for a few showers in the northern Rockies and some snow flurries in eastern Montana. It will be warmer in the southern Plains and in the area from the Mississippi to the Atlantic coast. The northern Plains and the northern Rocky mountain states will have colder weather. Born Nov. 30, 1893, at LaCrosse, Wis., Reckert came to Norfolk in 1915 and was golf pro at the Country Club here until 1919, except for a period of Army Service in World War I. He was one of northeast Nebraska's top golfers for many years and won the Northeast Nebraska championship several times.

Democrat Cites Heavy Spending In State GOP Drive

Sen. Butler Again Hits Control Plan

By the Associated Press

An Omaha Democrat charged Thursday that Douglas County Republicans were spending enough money in the present campaign to pay the salary of the President of the United States for more than a year.

Speaking to a group of party workers, James F. Green, Democratic county chairman, said the GOP budget for Douglas County was $85,000. He listed the presidential salary as $75,000.

For the entire state, Green went on, the Republicans are spending $200,000 in an effort to elect seven state officials, two U. S. Senators and four congressman.

Questions Ulterior Motive

"This is about the combined salaries of these 13 officials for approximately 14 or 15 months," Green said. "This money is being contributed by wealthy citizens.

"Do these donors have ulterior motives?" he continued. "Certainly they are not donating to help out the common man."

The Democrats, admittedly having financial trouble in the campaign, will see that candidates who have alloted radio and television time will go as scheduled.

In making that statement, Bernard Boyle, Omaha, Democratic national committeeman, said "I feel sure the money will be raised."

Urges Drive

Boyle urged Democratic workers to put on a last-minute drive for funds to cover the radio and television commitments.

Republicans Sen. Hugh Butler, who is seeking re-election, blasted government controls in a statement issued Thursday night in Omaha.

"When the new Congress meets early next year," he said, " I hope we will make it one of the first orders of business to get rid of the useless OPS and other unnecessary controls that are doing no good at all, and simply disrupt the smooth functioning of our whole economic system."

In remarks at an Omaha political rally Thursday night, James Hart, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Second Nebraska district, declared:

"We should organize a citizens committee on Federal expenditures on a national basis to work for more intelligent appropriation of Federal funds.

"This citizens committee should be bi-partisan and completely independent of government. It should work carefully in cooperation with the appropriations committees of both the Senate and the House."

Wilber NU Students Mark Up Outstanding English Record

Four University of Nebraska freshmen from Wilber High School have set a record for themselves in English at the University of Nebraska.

They are: Betty Searcy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Searcy; Bonnie Altman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Altman; Robert Prokop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prokop, and Norman Cizek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cizek, Jr.

Mrs. York

The four students constitute the entire University freshman enrollment from Wilber and all of them qualified for English 3, the advanced section of freshman English classes.

Prof. Kenneth Forward, supervisor of freshman English, says the Wilber group is the only sizable 100 per cent English 3 contingent from any Nebraska high school.

Betty and Bonnie Lou, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Nelson of Ceresco, also set a 100 per cent English 3 record, for their high school.

The Wilber students agreed that the explanation for their success is their high school English teacher, Mrs. Mabel York.

"She taught us grammar and more grammar," says Betty Searcy, "and that helped us with our University qualification tests."

Of 144 weeks of English instruction, the Wilber class received in high school, 60 were devoted to grammar, including the final six-week period of their senior year. Sixty-six weeks were devoted to literature, and 18 to composition.

'Good Neighbor' Injured In Seward Husking Bee

SEWARD, Neb. (AP)—A corn picking bee at the farm of the late Walter Katt, who was killed two months ago in a tractor accident, resulted in injury for one of the volunteers.

Lawrence Wilkens lost the end of a finger in a corn picker.

Two shellers, 20 tractor drawn wagons and 12 trucks took part in husking 2,528 bushels of corn and delivering it to an elevator.

Curtis School Paper Again Is Rated High

Only two other bi-weekly papers in schools of comparable size in the nation received a similar rating.

Franklin Farmer Amputates Hand Caught In Picker

FRANKLIN, Neb. (AP)—Olen Wolfe, 42, Franklin farmer, is recovering after amputating his own right hand to free himself from a corn picker in which the hand was caught.

Wolfe was brought to a Franklin hospital by Rural Mail Carrier Merle Beach, who found him in a field on his farm one mile west of Franklin. His condition was reported "fine."

Jaycees To Patrol City On Halloween

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Members of the Hastings Junior Chamber of Commerce will patrol the city Friday night in an effort to thwart any fires or pranks in connection with Halloween celebrations.

The vigilantes, realizing that fire threatens the city because of extremely dry conditions and tons of uncleared leaves, agreed to report fires to the fire and police department and make every effort themselves to get the blazes out on the spot.

Allies Regain Triangle Hill After Savage Korea Battle

Red Troops Chopped Up

From Press Dispatches

SEOUL (Friday) — Allied troops lost and then rewon Triangle Hill Thursday in one of the most savage Korean battles since the Communists began launching limited but powerful ground offensives on the central front early in October.

Driven from the towering crest of the strategic hill mass after a night-long battle, the Allies charged back up the slopes and pounded the Chinese back after two hours of hand to hand fighting in a swirling rainstorm.

Two Chinese battalions, employing "human sea" tactics, were chopped up during their own assault and during the fierce Allied counterattack to regain the hill.

The Chinese seized the summit of Triangle Hill at 2 a.m., then pressed on south. Confused fighting was in progress at the base of the Triangle in the pre-dawn darkness.

Allied artillery fired in maximum concentration with everything up to eight-inch guns.

It was the heaviest loss of territory the Allies have suffered in the 18-day-old battle on the front north of Kumhwa.

The U.S. Seventh Division had seized Triangle Hill Oct. 16.

The Allies had held Triangle since, despite all the fury of Red counter attacks and violent artillery barrages.

About 150 Chinese simultaneously attacked Sniper Ridge, about a mile east of Triangle Hill, early Friday. There was no sign that this was a major effort to take the ridge, however.

Already the long battle had cost the Chinese 11,000 casualties, but there was no sign of a letup in the swaying struggle.

Artillery fire from both sides was intense.

An Eighth Army staff officer said the combined Red and Allied barrages probably were the greatest of the war.

Allied casualties have not been announced. But front dispatches have indicated they are severe and the casualty curve has been rising in weekly reports from the Defense Department in Washington.

A Peiping broadcast Thursday asserted Allied forces suffered 4,000 in killed along the front from Oct. 20 to Oct. 26. Red casualty claims are exaggerated, however.

WALL OF BOXES—Frances Rosenberg (left), 2124 St. Mary's, and Beryl Skold, 335 So. Cotner, take count of the 132 ballot boxes that line a wall in the Office of Election Commissioner. Votes in all the Lancaster County precincts are returned to the Commissioner's office in the boxes. (Star Photo.)

Young Tibbett Sued

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Lawrence Tibbett Jr., 31-year-old son of the opera star, was sued for divorce Thursday by the woman he married twice.

His wife, Norma, 27, charged cruelty. The couple was married Oct. 20, 1950, and separated last Oct. 4.

The first marriage ceremony was performed at Las Cruces, N. M., and later repeated after Mrs. Tibbett had obtained a Mexican divorce from her third husband, Gene Meredith.

Tibbett, an actor, formerly was married to Mrs. Edith Ernestine Witte, the God-daughter of the late Mme. Schumann-Heink. They were divorced in 1942.

Ohioan Is Elected To Farmers Equity Board Of Directors

Herbert Hennon, Lima, O., has been elected to the board of directors of the National Farmers Equity.

Some 250 farmer cooperative Equity members ended their 42nd annual convention with a Thursday night banquet. John E. Curtiss of Lincoln gave the banquet address.

Earlier, the group heard an address by J. K. Stern, Washington, D. C., on "Some Master Keys" of good cooperative management. Stern stressed the need for more trained personnel among the cooperatives, more research, a spread of information and greater participation by youth in the cooperative program.

Discussions were also held on cooperative accounting, purchasing, marketing, financing, advertising and publicity.

Chest, Red Cross Fund Drive Hits 90 Pct. Mark

Lincoln's united Community Chest-Red Cross fund campaign was with $50,000 of the $467,653 goal following Thursday's report luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce.

The day's reports brought in a total of $11,009 pushing the fund total to date to $422,074—90 per cent of the goal.

The Women's Division of the campaign fund went over the top Thursday—the first division to do so. Under the direction of Mrs. W. Avon Fraser and about 200 workers, the division has been soliciting the residential sections on a prospect card basis. They turned in Thursday $268 making a grand total of $10,929 toward their goal of $10,798. There were still reports outstanding that will be added to their total.

Walter S. Henrion, general chairman of the campaign, congratulated the women for their perseverance in getting their goal so soon and said that it augurs well for the other divisions.

A summary of Thursday report is as follows:

Advance Gifts (Division "A"), John F. Lawlor, leader—$5,055 or a total to date of $230,821 towards a goal of $233,826.

Employees Classified (Division "C"), John M. Spray, leader—$5,686 or a total to date of $179,952 towards a goal of $223,029.

Henrion said that there was a definite pick-up in the campaign and there was no doubt of the ultimate outcome if the workers still continue the pace they have set during the past few days.

William (Bill) Gold of the Retail Division was the first Colonel to go over the top in the business and professional section. He received a bronze "oscar." His workers covered the large department stores, men's and women's clothing stores, jewelry and florist shops. His goal was $24,774 with $25,834 reported. There were still outstanding reports of subdivisions in this regiment to be turned in.

Other "oscars" for topping goals were given to Glenn Baldwin cigar and candy stores in Division "C"; Mrs. E. A. Becker for Division "W," and to Ray Baldwin and Kenneth Boshart telephone & telegraph companies.

There were 28 more firms whose employees met or exceeded their quotas Thursday making a grand total of 338 firms to exceed their goals. They were:

Swansons Fined For Bad Eggs In Shipment

OMAHA (AP)—C. A. Swanson & Sons, food processors, were fined $300 and costs Thursday by Federal Judge James A. Donohoe for violation of the Pure Food and Drug Act.

The charge involved cans containing spoiled eggs, court officials said.

Run Of Vandalism Costs City $250; Statue Is Damaged

A recent run of vandalism on city property has cost the city directly some $250 and cost the Indian statue in Pioneers Park his nose.

Accorring to the City Park Department, the Indian's nose was knocked off with a rock. Vandals apparently climbed up the statue, said officials, and hammered on the nose.

The piece of nose has been found and will be wired back on.

In dollars, the city has lost $250 in malicious damage to street lamps in Antelope Park, according to John Kruse, city utilities district manager. Kruse estimated that during the year to date, damage to street lamps through vandalism has amounted to $1,000.

Farrell Resigns

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (INS)—Silent film star Charles Farrell has ended a five year reign as mayor of Palm Springs.

Farrell, who operates the Racquet Club in this desert resort community, submitted his resignation to the City Council, of which he has been a member for seven years, without giving his reason.

It is believed that a series of rows within the Council recently may have led to his action.

Hallowe'en—1-9-5-2

We finally have the results of our own personally conducted poll—It tells us that these "new voters" of some 16-to-20 years hence are far more interested in pumpkins than electoral votes.

It was last spring that Bob Thacker, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thacker, decided that the more pumpkins the better halloween—So, he planted a whole package of pumpkin seed. The results as seen in the picture, are obvious, and Bob and his older sister, Mary Jo are busy making plans—They think they will have a party and give the pumpkins as prizes.

Here we find very young Jeffery Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Johnston, delving into the mysteries of the pumpkin. Jeffery celebrated his first birthday on October 20, and from reports he has a most impartial attitude concerning his birthday cake and pumpkin.

It seems to be dress rehearsal for little Miss Susan Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mills. Susan is sure that with her costume the "treats" will be a cinch but she wants to be sure that all is in order before she begins her halloween trek this evening.

Can't guess who those two hallowe'eners are we'll betcha—The one on the right, clutching the jack o' lantern is none other than Molly O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig O'Brien, and though you'd never suspect it, the "ghost" at the left is Dorrie O'Brien. Both Molly and Dorrie are expecting plenty in the way of fun this evening.

Havelock YW Plans Schedule

The Havelock YWCA center has scheduled a full program of activities for the coming week. Everybody's Busy

THIS SEEMS TO be everybody's week-end—Hallowe'en for the very young—football for the adult population AND the high school crowd AND the junior-high set. Just to make everything extra-gala there are guests—and dinner dances at the various clubs—and parties—

* * *

SPEAKING of dinner dances—The Terpsichorean Dancing Club has a dinner dance planned for Saturday evening at the Lincoln Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Francis D. Parish are serving as chairmen of the party committee, and we hear that the guest list will include Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gerlach of Tarkio, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Black of Kansas City.

* * *

JUST HAPPENED to remember that Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Faulkner are having house guests this week-end, too—Mr. and Mrs. Don Elbell will be arriving Saturday morning from Kansas City.

* * *

ARRIVING from Russell, Kans., to spend the week-end and to attend the game with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brittin will be Mr. and Mrs. Russell Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittin will entertain their guests at the Hillcrest Club Saturday evening, and have invited fourteen guests in for a canape party following the game.

* * *

FROM THE looks of things Hillcrest Club will have to hang out an SRO sign Saturday night for the club's usual post-game dinner dance—In charge of the festive arrangements is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Don Durfee, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hecht, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tomlin.

* * *

WHEN Mr. and Mrs. John C. Whitten entertain at dinner Saturday evening at the Lincoln Country Club their out of town guests will be Mrs. Whitten's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Varney Jr., of Broken Bow, and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Neighbors of Scottsbluff.

* * *

BUT THERE ARE those who are spending the current week-end elsewhere, football game notwithstanding—Dr. and Mrs. Richard E. Garlinghouse left on Tuesday for Memphis, Tenn., where Dr. Garlinghouse is attending a meeting of the Central States Obstetrical Society.

* * *

BACK TO the guest book for a moment or two—Hear that Dr. and Mrs. James Allen of Tekamah and Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Stebbins of Gothenburg are to be the game and week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Irl Stebbins.

Preceding the game on Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins will honor their guests when they entertain at luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club.

* * *

HAD YOU heard that Capt. and Mrs. Thomas H. Davis were in town? Mrs. Davis, we hear, has taken an apartment here, but Air Force officer Captain Davis leaves on Sunday for Camp Stoneman where he will remain two weeks before going to Korea. Mrs. Davis is the former Bette Rathburn, daughter of Mrs. H. M. Rathburn. Capt. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Davis.

* * *

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Merle Hale has been removed to her home to complete her convalescence following surgery at Lincoln General Hospital.

* * *

HAVE A postscript on Hillcrest activities—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schammel will be a dinner host and hostess at Hillcrest Saturday evening, and that their out of town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Vern Crouch of Omaha.

Swing'er Cheat Square Dance

On Saturday night in the YWCA gymnasium, the members of the Swing 'er Cheat Square Dance Club will meet for a Hallowe'en party. Entertains At Party

Dennis Hanneman entertained a group of twelve friends Thursday evening at a Halloween party held at his home. Following games, refreshments were served. Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanneman.

PTA Names District Head

Mother May Lose Rights To Custody Of Children Because Of Legal Snarl

By MARILYN KIRKEBY
Star Staff Writer

A Madison, Wis., woman, whose three children have been placed for adoption in Ogallala, may lose her rights to custody of them sometime in November because of a confused legal situation.

The story started in April, 1951, when Mrs. Betty Colvin's husband, Clarence, deserted her taking their three children with him. According to a story in the Madison, Wis., State Journal, the children were abandoned in August, 1951, in Ogallala.

Mrs. Colvin did not learn of the abandonment until November. When she was notified by Ogallala authorities that they were holding her children there.

The father served nine months, from January, 1952, to September, 1952, in the Nebraska State Reformatory for Men on the child abandonment charge, records there show.

Legal Difficulties

Legal entanglements began in November, 1951, and are still in progress. Mrs. Colvin is an indigent and her case has been carried on by the Madison Family Service and Legal Aid.

Recently, Mrs. Colvin was notified, according to the State Journal, that one of her children had been placed for adoption.

The three children, Dorothy, 4; Clarence Jr., 3; and Fred, 2; were first taken care of by an Ogallala welfare agency and were then placed in private homes. An Ogallala couple now wishes to adopt Fred and a Grant farmer and his wife have expressed a desire to adopt the other two children, according to Keith County Judge W. I. Tillinghast.

Judge 'Doubtful'

When questioned by The Star, Judge Tillinghast said, "I am doubtful whether the custody of the three children will be restored to the natural mother (Mrs. Colvin) by this court. I am not prejudging the case, however. I am basing my opinion on the showing she has made in this court so far. If new evidence is introduced by the mother at the time of the adoption hearing, of course my ruling would take that into consideration."

Judge Tillinghast's opinion is based, he stated, on the fact that Mrs. Colvin is without funds and would be unable to provide properly for the children.

A formal objection to the adoption proceedings, written by the Madison office of Legal Aid, will be read at the hearing in Ogallala, Judge Tillinghast said.

Statute Listed

According to Nebraska statutes concerning adoption, no child can be adopted without the written consent of both parents unless there are extenuating circumstances such as proof of moral turpitude on the parents' part, or the child has been abandoned by the parents for at least six months.

Attorney General Clarence S. Beck, who has taken an "unofficial" interest in the Madison woman's plight, says the three children have not been technically abandoned by the mother as they were taken from her, without her consent, by the father and then abandoned by the father.

"In my opinion, she (Mrs. Colvin) is in control of the situation now as long as she has not given consent for the adoption," Beck said.

Mrs. Colvin is now receiving a pension for deserted mothers from the state of Wisconsin. She was pregnant at the time her husband deserted her and now has a fourth child, Linda, 1, living with her.

ONE CHILD LEFT—Mrs. Clarence Colvin, 24, Madison, Wis., manages a smile while holding the picture of her three children placed for adoption in Ogallala. Her husband took the three children when he deserted her more than a year ago and abandoned them in Ogallala. Linda, 1, on Mrs. Colvin's lap, is the child born to Mrs. Colvin after the husband's desertion.

THREE ABANDONED CHILDREN—Pictured above are the three Colvin children, Clarence Jr., 3, Freddie, 2, and Dorothy, 4, who were abandoned in Ogallala by their father, Clarence Colvin. Adoption proceedings may rob the mother, Mrs. Betty Colvin of Madison, Wis., of the custody of the three. (Photos Courtesy Madison, Wis., State Journal.)

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—With Iraq angrily abstaining, the U. N. Special Political Committee Thursday voted to allocate 23 million dollars for relief of some 900,000 Palestine refugees in the Middle East.

The money is for the 1952-53 year, and the committee's action must be approved by the General Assembly.

Fifty nations voted to support the program, sponsored by the United States, Britain, France and Turkey. There were no votes against it, but the Soviet Bloc, Iraq and Chile abstained.

Farmers' 1953 Costs To Climb; Income Drop Expected

Prices farmers receive for most of their products will probably average a little less in 1953 than they are getting this year and they're going to find themselves in a bit tighter squeeze next year. The cost of the things farmers buy, will go up a little more in 1953.

That's the word from Extension Economist R. G. Ford of the University of Nebraska, who attended the recent Outlook Conference at Washington, D. C. Here is the way, he said, economists outline the cost situation:

They expect farm machinery and power costs—as well as prices of motor fuels and tires—to run a bit higher in 1953. Corn may average a little lower in price, but other feed grains and high protein feeds will probably average higher.

As for fertilizers, supplies are expected to be up about 12 per cent over last year, but prices are not expected to be lower. The supplies of nitrogen are expected to be up 11 per cent and phosphates 10 per cent.

The economists recommended ordering fertilizers early.

Norfolk Man In New State Equipment Post

James H. MacDonald, who has been resident engineer at Norfolk, Thursday was named state equipment engineer by State Engineer Harold L. Aitken.

It is a new post and MacDonald will take over the duties on Monday.

Aitken said the appointment "emphasizes the growing dominance of maintenance in the Nebraska highway picture."

Aitken added "maintenance normally means preserving what has been provided by construction but because of the condition of the state highway system and the department's financial situation maintenance forces are called upon to carry on abnormal burdens."

He pointed out that maintenance men are extending bridges that ought to be replaced and strengthening bituminous highways that should be reconstructed.

Succeeding MacDonald as Norfolk district engineer will be Marvin Nuernberger, 39, who joined the department in 1935, later worked for the Illinois department, and returned to the Nebraska department in 1947. He has been in charge of construction projects.

As equipment engineer, MacDonald, 41, will have general supervision over all mechanics working for the department and will assign and distribute equipment throughout the state.

MacDonald will also determine what kinds and what amounts of equipment should be purchased.

Aitken said the department at the start of 1952 owned 302 motor graders used for maintenance patroling and that 131 were purchased between 1931 and 1939. Currently the graders are being replaced by new ones at a rate of 25 a year. The old graders, Aitken said, can not be used as snow removers as can the new ones, and that the upkeep cost is high.

Wallpaper Of Maps Provides Imaginary World Travels

By JOAN KRUEGER
Star Staff Writer

Ever since Mrs. David Gracey spent 35 cents for paste, she and her family have been taking imaginary trips from India to England to Nebraska and every other corner of the world.

When Mrs. Gracey of 1932 So. 24th decided that her husband's study needed brightening, she gathered together all her old maps and used them for wallpaper. As a result, the study walls are covered with maps ranging from one of Asia with pictures of Asians, to Nebraska road maps.

The idea came from the house the Graceys lived in this summer on an island in Michigan. The halls were decorated with maps there, and Mrs. Gracey said she decided to fix one of her rooms that way.

It took Mrs. Gracey, who originally is from Yorkshire, England, two evenings to complete the job.

"I did it while my two children were in bed," she said.

Most of the maps came from trips the family has taken, but she plans to use world maps to cover the hallway leading from the study.

Her advise to anyone planning to paper walls with maps is to use ones with a coast line, and to "just slap them on — don't use a pattern."

And her husband, pastor of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church,—what does he think about his redecorated study? Mrs. Gracey says he likes it "very much."

"We sit here and pick out places we'd like to visit," she added.

The Gulf Stream is more than 6,000 miles long from the Gulf of Mexico to the seas north of Norway.

Breakaway Bobby Is '?' For Husker - Mizzou Tilt

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

ALL-AMERICAN Bobby Reynolds was the big question mark Thursday as the Nebraska Cornhuskers went through final preparations for the Saturday game with Missouri.

Coach J. William Glassford preferred a "no comment" on whether Reynolds, who suffered a shoulder separation against Kansas State three weeks ago, would do other than extra-point or field-goal duty against Mizzou.

In a previous statement, Glassford predicted that Reynolds might be available for full-scale duty against Kansas, Nov. 8.

The Grand Island senior booted two extra points and barely missed what would have been a game-winning field goal against Colorado last Saturday. Prior to his field goal attempt, Reynolds participated in two running plays—but strictly as a decoy, out of the scope of action.

Glassford feared Thursday that his squad might suffer a letdown after the inspired Colorado showing.

"We were up for Colorado," commented Glassford. "But we seem to have lost some of our zip this week."

Reynolds and End George Mink, lost for the season with a broken collar bone against Colorado, are the only men on the sidelines.

Publicist Bill Callihan, advance guard of the Missouri crusade, warned of a possible aerial battle.

It will be 14 years this Saturday, recalls Callihan, that a brash, blond sophomore—name of Paul Christman—pitched Missouri to their first win over Nebraska after 10 straight setbacks.

Right smack in the Huskers' backyard, Pitchin' Paul went out and plucked that epic 13-10 triumph for underdog Mizzou—Don Faurot's first over the hardy men of "Biff" Jones—and still regarded by Faurot as one of his top coaching thrills.

It was the forward pass that ended Nebraska's supremacy that day, and the next year Christman's prophetic passing etched another victory notch for Missouri.

This weekend, still another Tiger passer—and a sophomore, too—may be commissioned to strafe Nebraska with an all-out air effort, should Mizzou's running game flounder. Then, it'll be up to Tony Scardino, the 5-ft. 9 flipper from Kansas City, to move the Tigers.

Tony's no Christman—not yet anyway—physically, temperamentally or artistically. He'll never have Paul's blocky 190 pounds. He doesn't have the Christman self-assurance, or his flair for leadership. Yet, in one brilliant afternoon last year—the Oklahoma game—Scardino was Christman's superior on a competitive basis. Tony winged his receivers on 23 of his 42 shots for 365 yards that day, surpassing any single-game feat ever turned in by his illustrious predecessor.

That performance came off the spread formation—but neither the spread, nor Tony, have reached that degree of efficiency so far this season.

When Faurot shuffled his backfield last week, restoring Scardino to the T-quarterback post, the little sophomore did his best tossing of the year.

He made nine of his 14 pegs good for 108 yards. He passed to halfback Bill Rowekamp for one touchdown, and scooted 45 yards on a keep play to set up another score.

The Kansas Citian thus hiked his passing yardage to 558 yards, one short of Jerry Robertson's league-leading total. In any passing duel this Saturday, the Mizzou tosser will be opposing John Bordogna, who's fifth among Big Seven aerialists with 21 completions in 50 tries for 365 yards.

Bordogna, incidentally, and the Tigers' left halfback—Jim Hook—will have something more in common this Saturday than the mere fact that each handles the heavy-duty offensive load for his club. Both will be wearing facial masks—Bordogna to protect a battered mouth he acquired in the Penn State game, and Hook to shield a broken nose which he got as a souvenir from a practice scrimmage last week.

Only unbeaten, untied team in conference warfare, the Tigers will tote a 2-0 record into the fray at Lincoln. In all games, Missouri has won just those two league starts (over Kansas State and Iowa State), against four defeats (Maryland, California, S. M. U. and Oklahoma A. & M.).

With a record of two wins and a tie in Big Seven play, Nebraska could vault into a probable first-place tie with Oklahoma, by stopping Missouri Saturday.

Cards Cut The Cat; Brownies Hire Him

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harry The Cat Brecheen, veteran left-handed pitcher, Thursday signed a contract with the St. Louis Browns after being given his unconditional release earlier by the neighboring Cardinals.

Brownie officials said Brecheen signed as a pitcher-coach. They would not reveal his salary, but Cardinal President Fred Saigh said "the Browns offered him $20,000 as a player and $14,000 the next year on a two-year contract."

The veteran 38-year-old southpaw, serving as a pitching coach and working infrequently, won seven and lost five for the Cardinals last season.

Viewmen Face Bellevue In Homecoming Contest

GLENN HOY, 159-pound sophomore guard, remained a doubtful participant today in College View's scheduled Homecoming game with Bellevue tonight.

Hoy received a slight concussion in scrimmage Wednesday afternoon and spent the night in a local hospital for observation. Viewman Coach Tom Gillaspie said that while Hoy appeared to be "all right," he would not start the game and his participation was "doubtful."

Ralph Graham is expected to get the starting nod.

One of two Viewmen who did not see action last week for disciplinary reasons will return to the starting lineup. Darrel Bryceson will open at right guard. Quarterback Jim Carlson is still benched.

Two freshman backs who turned in outstanding performances last week, Larry Epp and Harland Mook, have been bidding strongly for spots on the starting eleven.

The Viewmen, morale at a new high after their 7-6 upset win over Wilber last week, go into the game on at least even terms with the Chieftains, who have won two, lost three and tied one in state competition. The Hilltoppers claim two wins against four defeats.

Homecoming festivities scheduled include a torchlight parade and performance by the school's marching band at half-time, preceding the traditional crowning of the Homecoming Queen and of "Mr. Viewman."

Players' fathers are to sit on the sidelines, wearing cards numbered to correspond with their sons' numbers. Mothers of players will wear chrysanthemums bearing similar numbers.

The probable College View offensive lineup for the Eastern Nebraska Eight Conference game, slated to get under way at the Hilltop field at 8 p.m.:

Ends—Louie Meinecke and Bill Thierstein.
Tackles—Mike Martin and Allan Schroeder.
Guards—Ralph Graham and Darrel Bryceson.
Center—Jim Edwards.
Quarterback—Jack Porter.
Halfbacks—Bob Flatten and Paul Westbrook.
Fullback—Woody Oaks.

It looks as though a lot of folks who want to stick up for their rights are remembering the right to vote is tops. Without the power to express our choice on the ballot, everyother right that is promised to us would be at the whim of whatever group might be in power. Not only are we able to vote in America . . . but we even have a choice of candidates.

If you think that's a silly statement, just recall a few of the so-called "elections" that have been held in many other countries during recent and past times. It's no election when your choice is either the man in power or a one-day ticket out of the country.

A Michigan man forged somebody else's name on a check, then made the mistake of writing his own address. He needs a new pen . . . and it looks as though the warden will furnish it. Maybe this is the shocking question . . . but do you know that the shock absorbers on your car should be checked at least twice a year? If you neglect them you'll have more ups and downs than an elevator, plus a lot of bounce. So have the fluid level checked at least twice a year, and when you do bring your car in to us at DeBROWN AUTO SALES CO., 1717 "O" Street . . . Phone: 2-6863. Adv.

AT this stage of things a week ago, we tabbed Nebraska to upset Colorado by 21-20.

They came within a razor's hone of doing just that and, at that, mired the Buffs in a tie.

Convinced that Bill Glassford's determined gang of young Huskers are not to be bet against, we're stringing with them another week.

Nebraska 20, Missouri 14—The Husker defensive line and a superior rushing attack will tell the tale this day. Mizzou passing will bother, but the Scarlet will prevail on ball control.

Oklahoma 54, Iowa State 7—Sooners to reach the sixties if their seventh string left tackle survives the flu.

Kansas 46, Kansas State 6—Another breeze.

Colorado 27, Wyoming 7—Buffs have too much of everything.

BOBBY SHANTZ, the Philly A's ace lefty (24-7), is back in Lincoln, his adopted town, after a tour of Hawaii and the west coast with a group of major leaguers.

Because his broken wrist injured in mid-September, is still not healed, Bob served as assistant manager of the team. Managed by Eddie Lopat of the Yankees, the barnstormers included Nellie Fox, another illustrious Sherman Field alum, and Yogi Berra of the Yanks.

Bob reported the crowds in six games (all victories for the Lopats) averaged 6,000.

He and his wife, the former Shirley Vogel of Lincoln, are showing the bronze effects of the Hawaiian sun.

Enroute to Lincoln, they stopped in Tucson, Ariz., for a fishing trip with two of Bob's mound cohorts, Alex and Walt Kellner. Walt is another Sherman Field grad.

After attending the Husker-Missouri game Saturday, Bob will head for New York for a series of television and radio appearances. After that, he and Shirley will settle in Lincoln for the winter.

The southpaw whiz does not think he'll be able to start throwing again until late December. His wrist has not been healing as rapidly as anticipated.

Turner-Dyckes Tiff Reslated For Dec. 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A rematch between welterweights Gil Turner and Bobby Dykes, scheduled for Nov. 18 at Philadelphia's Convention Hall, was postponed Thursday until Dec. 1.

An eye injury suffered by Dykes in a fight with Lester Felton at Louisville Monday night was blamed for the postponement. Dykes lost a split decision to Felton.

'Birds Tangle With Weeping Water Tonight

Cathedral heads into the rough tail-end portion of its 1952 schedule tonight with a game at Weeping Water, a team which might well prove too much for Coach Vince Aldrich's Bluebirds.

Coach Darwin Salestrom's Indians have been an up-and-down team this season.

Their record includes a 13-6 win over Syracuse—the team that beat Cathedral, 6-0, in the Bluebird's opener—and a 20-13 beating of Omaha Cathedral, a team which claims a tie with tough Omaha Holy Name.

But the Indians' record also includes a 7-6 defeat at the hands of lowly Omaha Westside. Cathedral holds a substantial win over College View, a team which beat Westside 12-6.

So if the Indians are up, they might scalp the Aldrichmen. But if they're down, the steadily-improving Bluebirds should prevail.

Cathedral has spent the past week in concentration on defensive play, with backs working on new offensive plays. Aldrich has announced no changes in his starting lineup.

The probable Cathedral starters for the game, which gets under way at Weeping Water at 8 p.m.:

Ends—Tom Brady and Rich Snyder.
Tackles—Jerome Bartek and Tom Studnicka.
Guards—Bill Manke and Dick Mobley.
Center—John Fagan.
Quarterback—Joe Clark.
Halfbacks—Stan Peters and Denny Costin.
Fullback—Dave Kubitschek.

Bratton Rates Slim Edge Over Miceli

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Bratton ruled a 6½ to 5 favorite over Joe Miceli Thursday for their welterweight headline bout Friday night in Madison Square Garden.

Bratton, the Chicagoan who once held the NBA crown for two months, has won 52 of 74 fights, 29 by knockouts. Miceli, product of New York's East Side, at 23 is two years younger than Bratton, and has won 36 out of 51 fights, including 19 knockouts.

The bout will be televised at 9 p.m., CST.

Wrestle Fans Request Ike Vs. Adlai Match

WASHINGTON (INS)—Wrestling fans usually get their preferences on the bill at Turner's arena when they fill out cards suggesting who they would like to see. But there was some doubt Thursday whether they would see one match requested.

It was "Ike vs Adlai."

Hastings Favored Over NWU In Traditional NCC Attraction

NEBRASKA Wesleyan and Hastings College will meet in O. N. Magee Memorial Stadium here tonight in a traditional Nebraska College Conference football rivalry.

The Broncos, tutored by Coach Tom McLaughlin to five wins in six starts this season, will hurl one of the best balanced attacks in the loop at Coach Roy Robertson's Plainsmen.

One factor alone stands in favor of the host club. The two teams have a long history of spoiling the best-laid plans of the favorite in this football rivalry which dates back to 1908.

But this year the veteran, talent-laden Broncos will be better than just favorites to dispose of the improved but depth-shy Plainsmen.

Only Peru's strong Bobcats have been able to solve the Bronco riddle this season, this in a 14-6 game which opened the gates to what probably will be an undisputed loop title for the Bobcats.

These same Bobcats stopped the Plainsmen 27-7 after being held scoreless for 38 minutes in the game which marked a reversal of form for the Plainsmen.

Since then Wesleyan has whipped two favored foes, Doane (14-13) and Kearney (20-7). By continuing their impressive late surge, the Plainsmen could add the visitors to their list of upset victims.

Coach Robertson has named Don Allely and Wes Hultquist as Plainsman co-captains. Bill Beecher and Bill Beck have drawn similar assignments for Hastings.

The Plainsmen will own a slight weight advantage, chiefly on the strength of their heavier backfield.

The weight charts:

Nebraska Wesleyan: Average weight in line, 182.5; average weight of backs, 184.7; average team weight, 183.3.

Hastings College: Average weight in line, 185.7; average weight of backs, 174.2; average team weight, 181.5.

Links Take Two-Day Trip To Tangle With Alliance

By WAYNE PANTER
Star Sports Staff Member

BROKEN BOW—Lincoln High School gridders shook out the kinks of a 180-mile bus ride here Thursday evening in a brisk workout at the Broken Bow High School athletic field and were pronounced ready by Coach Bill Pfeiff for their invasion of Alliance tonight.

The Links, who left Lincoln Thursday noon and spent the night here before moving on to Alliance this morning, are taking the trip in easy stages to ward off the fatigue experienced on last year's trip to Scottsbluff.

The Red and Black is closer to full strength for tonight's game than for any since the early part of the season. Rejoining the squad this week were Tackle Dick Dinges and Center Mike Edwards, both of whom had been sidelined by knee injuries. Only Jack Curtis, bothered by a charley horse, is a doubtful participant.

Alliance, however, may not be as fortunate. Byron Manes, starting fullback and key man in the Bulldogs' split-T and spread formation attacks, suffered a severe ankle sprain last week against Kearney and may be lost for the Lincoln game.

The Bulldogs, a rapidly-improving ball club after a slow start, stomped Kearney, 33-0, for their second straight win in a season which has seen Coach Al Zikmund's club go three and three in the six games they've played.

The lopsided win over Kearney last week reflects the Bulldogs' improvement when the score is compared with Scottsbluff's 26-6 win over the same team a week earlier. Lincoln was hard pressed to gain a 13-7 victory over the Bearcats at Lincoln three weeks ago.

Alliance retains a talented nucleus from last year's fine team. Manse, a hard, fast runner and good defensive player, and Don Haught—both luminaries of last season—paced the Bulldogs in their win over Kearney. LeRoy Duskin, a letter winner last year, may replace Manes if he is unable to go tonight.

Pfeiff said after Thursday's brief workout that he plans no changes in the lineup that has started for Lincoln in its last two games. Probably offensive lineups for the game, which gets under way at 8:30 p.m. (CST):

GRADUATES of Northeast High School were treated to a brilliant offensive and defensive show at O. N. Magee Stadium Thursday night as the Rockets celebrated their homecoming with a rousing, 18-0, victory over once-beaten Omaha Benson.

Powered by the running of Backs Ken Forbes and Junior Thomas, the Rockets rolled to 196 yards on the ground while the rugged forward wall for the Black and White was holding the Bunnies to 77 yards—55 coming in the first half.

Boasting one of the best defensive records in the state for a Class A club, the loss came as as terrific jolt for the Bunnies, who had been riding along in fifth place in the weekly ratings since the season commenced. The Rockets, who have had their ups-and-downs all season, caught fire in the second quarter and pushed the Bunnies all over the field.

Norvan Holverson, senior end for the Rockets, started things popping for Northeast shortly after the second quarter opened when he rushed in from his left flank position to block Harvey Anderson's punt on the Bunnies 32.

Thomas broke loose for 16 yards on the next play, moving the ball down to the 16, to set up Forbes' 14 yards dash over center to the two. Thomas carried over on the next play for the first of his two touchdowns during the evening with 7:43 left in the half. A fake placement for the extra point was stopped short of its goal.

Center Larry Hennings gave the Rockets their second break of the game when he intercepted a Bunnie pass on the 49 and got back to the 37 before being hauled down. With Forbes, Thomas and Ron Steele piling up three first downs enroute to the double stripes, Thomas carted the leather across from two yards out for the second tally. John Rohrig's boot for the point was wide of the uprights.

The Rockets put up their longest sustained drive of the evening on their way to their last score. Taking a Benson punt on the Rockets' 36, Bill Fry fought his way up to the 40 to set the Black and White in motion.

Again Thomas and Forbes shouldered the ball carrying chores, moving the ball down to the Benson 30 before time ran out in the third quarter. Switching goals, Forbes added another four yards, getting up to the 26 before Steele broke loose for an eleven yard gain, bringing the ball to rest on the 15. An off-side penalty shoved the ball back to the 20 to set up Forbes' dash over the center of the line to pay dirt.

Finding their lighter line no match for the heavier Rockets, the Bunnies resorted to a shoddy passing attack in the last quarter, but alert playing in the Black and White secondary found the Rockets intercepting two of the four passes attempted.

Besides Forbes and Thomas, Holverson, Fry and Dave Tullis turned in praiseworthy performances from their defensive positions.

Anderson led the Bunnies to what yardage they could muster with his quick break-away running, while Harden was the chief threat the Rockets had to contend with in the center of the line.

Line score:

Northeast	0	6	6	6	—18
Benson	0	0	0	0	— 0

Scoring touchdowns—Thomas (2), Forbes.

McCook Clips Norfolk, 38-7

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—McCook Junior College cut loose with six touchdown drives, climaxed by John Ward's 98-yard jaunt in the fourth period, to spoil the Norfolk Junior College homecoming, 38-7, here Thursday night.

Norfolk scored its lone touchdown in the third period when Rudy Klesch raced 77 yards.

McCook marched 35 yards in the opening quarter for its first touchdown with Paul Cheney plowing over from 4. In the second period, McCook marched 36 yards with Tom Hassler going over from the one. Late in the period, Bob Montgomery dashed 25 yards for a third counter.

Ward, on the first play of fourth period, drilled over from the 2-yard marker for another McCook touchdown. Ward's 98-yard dash was the next counter, and shortly before the game ended he raced over from Norfolk's 4.

Norfolk marched 80 yards in the fourth period only to lose the ball on McCook's 2.

Athletic Director Virgil Yelken, who also is head basketball coach, announced Thursday that Mudra will take over starting Monday.

Mudra is working on his Master's Degree in English at Omaha U.

Full Grid Slate Finds Prep Leaders Under Fire

Lexington Provides Big Obstacle For Haymakers

By JIM CLARK
Star Sports Staff Member

A full slate of prep games tonight may prove disastrous for some of the state's top rated clubs, with some of the leaders meeting their roughest competition to date.

The Cozad Haymakers have perhaps the biggest job ahead of them, when they host a rough, improving Lexington eleven. The Minutemen have chalked up only four wins this season but three of them were impressive verdicts over Class A schools.

Boasting two wins for the season, the Holdrege Dusters run into the highly polished Minden Whippets. While holding all their opponents to narrow scores, the Dusters don't have the weight in the forward wall to stop the Whippet's offensive attack.

The much improved Columbus Discoverers should have little trouble in getting by Fairbury in their non-confeernce fray.

Other top games tonight:

AINSWORTH AT BROKEN BOW — Ainsworth should find the Class B leaders too much to handle.

LINCOLN AT ALLIANCE — Just another hurdle for the Links to hop enroute to their second straight state title.

TECUMSEH AT AUBURN — A close one, but Auburn has shown too much savvy to be stopped two times in a row.

CENTRAL CITY AT DAVID CITY — The Scouts will be out for revenge after dropping their first tilt of the season to Fullerton last week.

GRAND ISLAND AT FREMONT — The fourth rated Islanders should wrap up the Eastern Division of the Big Ten Conference in this contest.

GRANT AT OGALLALA — The Plainsmen could strengthen their hold on first place in Class C by smacking down Class B Ogallala.

OMAHA CENTRAL AT OMAHA NORTH — The Vikings have a tight hold on second place in the Class A ratings, and should handthe Eagles their sixth loss of the season.

Christie's punts have averaged 42.8 yards.

DRAWS MAIN EVENT—Heavyweight Challenger Verne Gagne will match his wares with Bob Orton of Kansas City in the main event of Tuesday night's wrestle show.

Gagne Heads All-Star Mat Card Tuesday

An all-star card of television personalities is on tap Tuesday night for the weekly wrestle show at the fairgrounds arena.

The main event of this stellar attraction pits Verne Gagne, top-billing television star in the nation and the first challenger for the heavyweight crown, worn by Lou Thesz of St. Louis, against Bob Orton of Kansas City.

In the two fall out of three semi-final bout, Promoter Adam Krieger has lined up Hans Schmidt of Munich, Germany against Kit Fox of Oklahoma City. Schmidt, a notable meanie on TV hookups, lost a close decision to the World Champion Thesz three weeks ago in his Lincoln debut.

French Champion Pierre Florent will make his first appearance in the Capital City when he tangles with Joe Dusek, who has established himself as the dirtiest of the Omaha tribe, in the 30-minute opening bout.

Indianapolis Club Bought By Indians

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — The Cleveland Indians took complete control of the American Association Indianapolis Baseball Club Thursday when they bought the last 25 per cent interest from two Hoosier sportsmen.

Former Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney, Indianapolis banker, and Owen J. Bush, associated for 45 years with minor and major league baseball, sold their stock.

British Promoter Has Faith In Ray

LONDON (AP)—British fight promoters Jack Solomons said Thursday he is "satisfied" that Sugar Ray Robinson will fight Britain's Randy Turpin for the world Middleweight title.

However if Robinson decides to retire, as indicated by recent statements, Solomon's will ask the British Boxing Board of Control, the National Boxing Association and the New York State Athletic Commission to recognize the winner of a Charles Humez-Turpin bount as champ.

Missouri At Full Strength For NU Tilt

Tiger Team Arrives In Lincoln Tonight

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The University of Missouri football squad polished off preparations Thursday for its Saturday clash with Nebraska at Lincoln.

Coach Don Faurot's 36-man travel list showed the Bengals have virtually all of their grid talent available for the fray.

Faurot and his men will leave early Friday for Lincoln, with an afternoon stop in Kansas City. They will reach the Nebraska capital about bedtime.

Wildcats Ease Off

MANHATTAN, Kas. — Kansas State's Wildcats eased off in practice as they worked on both offense and defense against a freshman squad using K. U. plays.

Coach Bill Meek listed three men as definitely out of the Kansas State-Kansas game here Saturday due to injuries. They are Jack McShulskis first string end, Kent Barr, another end, and Elmer Creviston, number one offensive fullback.

Bob Smith, a first string defensive end was on the doubtful list. Meek said three men will return to the lineup and see action against the Jayhawkers on Saturday. They are Dennis Kane, first string end; Larry Hartshorn, and Earl Meyer, tackles.

Two New Cyclones

AMES, Ia.—The Iowa State Cyclones will have two new players in their starting offensive lineup when they take the field against Oklahoma in a Big Seven football game here Saturday.

After a two and a half hour drill which was completed under a fall harvest moon and the practice field lights, Coach Abe Stuber named Mike Swale and Emory Eichorn as the new starters at right end and right halfback, respectively.

Eichorn, who has played on defense all season, and Dick Mann will co-captain the Cyclones against Oklahoma.

Halfback Frank Congiardo appeared a very doubtful performer after reinjuring his ankle. Bill Plantan, the No. 2 quarterback, also will see limited service because of a bad ankle.

Kay May Play

LAWRENCE, Kas.—Morris Kay, University of Kansas defensive end struck with polio after three games this fall, may be in the lineup for the important homecoming game with Nebraska Nov. 8.

Kay worked out in sweat clothes with the team for the first time since his illness was diagnosed as polio Oct. 7. It had been feared that the end was lost for the season.

Coach Jules Sikes ran his squad through light signal drills Thursday afternoon.

Still on the doubtful list for Saturday's game against Kansas State are defensive regulars Gil Reich and John Konek. Konek has a bad knee and Reich, who also plays offense, has a pulled thigh muscle.

Sooners Try Kicks

NORMAN, Okla. — Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma emphasized kicking in the final drill before departing for the Big Seven Conference football game with Iowa State Saturday.

The Sooners, heading toward their fifth straight loop crown, leave by plane at 11 a.m. Friday for Des Moines, where they will spend the night.

Wilkinson announced Right Half Buddy Leake, the Big Seven's leading scorer, may play only part of the game because of an ankle injury. Merrill Green will alternate with Leake.

York Dumps Crete To Cop Central 8 Title

Lincoln Star Special

CRETE—The York Dukes drove 83 yards in the final quarter to push over the clinching touchdown in a 20-12 defeat of the Crete Cardinals here Thursday night.

The two teams went into the final quarter tied, 6-6, and York went out in front on a four-yard touchdown plunge by Quarterback Paul Thoms. The play climaxed a 60-yard drive, and Thom's extra-point plunge put the Dukes ahead, 13-6.

Crete retaliated with a 60-yard scoring march, capped by Del Reiss's two-yard TD smash. Frank Sack's extra-point pass to Don Vhynalek was nullified by a Crete penalty and kept the Cards from tying the score.

Then York took over and marched 76 yards before Harold Graff went over from seven yards out to wrap it up for the Dukes.

Both teams had scored in the second quarter, Crete on an 81-yard run around left end by Sack, and York on a 46-yard end sweep by Lowel Janzen. Line score:

York	0	6	0	14—20
Crete	0	6	0	6—12

York scoring: TD—Janzen, Thoms, Gruff. PAT—Thoms (plunge), Bert Speece (plunge).
Crete scoring: TD—Sack, Reiss.

Midget Champs Set For Omaha Playoffs

The Downtown Merchants, 1952 Lincoln Midget Football champs should be in top shape for their Santa Claus Bowl playoff game at Omaha Sunday, barring injuries in a Downtown-South Street exhibition game slated for Saturday.

Coach Ardie Means reported the return of star Fullback Marv Bauer to active duty following a shoulder injury suffered in a gymnasium accident at school.

Bauer, who missed the last three games of the season, will test his shoulder in an exhibition with City Runnerup South Street before the Nebraska-Missouri game Saturday. Game time for the exhibition is 12:30.

The Downtowners leave for Omaha at 10:30 Sunday for a 1:30 meeting with Sioux City Roberts at Muny Stadium. The winner of the Downtown-Sioux City game plays Omaha Phillips for the district title and a trip to the Santa Claus Bowl in Lakeland, Fla.

Bauer's return, along with the expected recovery of All-City Stars Phil Mendoza, Sonny Sader and Billy Knollenberg (all of whom have slight cases of influenza), establish Downtown as a favorite over the pass-minded Sioux City.

Concordia Hits Dana Eleven

BLAIR, Neb. (AP) — Concordia Thursday night won the Central Church College Conference football championship defeating Dana, 14-6.

It was Concordia's second grid championship in the two-year-old conference.

In the nip-and-tuck game there was only 7 yards difference in gains by the two teams —237 for Concordia, 230 for Dana.

Each team made 12 first downs and each completed six forward passes.

Both Concordia touchdowns, Larry Keiser's in the first period and Walt Beck's in the fourth, were on plunges.

Mark Thompson crossed with Dana's on a 20 yard run.

NU Cage Drills Start Saturday

First official basketball practice of the season satrts Saturday at the University of Nebraska.

The Cornhuskers open the season with a home game against South Dakota, December 6.

Season basketball tickets can be secured after November 24 at the Coliseum Ticket Office. Reserved seat tickets for individual games will be $1.50 and general admission, $1.

Student tickets admitting to all remaining sports will be offered at $3 and a faculty ticket will be $4.

Coach Good's squad this year lacks experience. Lone two-year letterman is Senior Guard Joe Good. Other lettermen are Bill Johnson, Fred Seger and Don Weber, juniors; Stan Matzke, Willard Fagler, Paul Fredstrom and Gerald Sandbulte, sophomores.

Coach Good predicts his squad will end up fifth or sixth in the Big Seven and tabs Kansas State, Missouri and Colorado as the favorites for the Conference flag.

First test of comparative strengths among Big Seven foes will come in the Big Seven tournament at Kansas City, December 26-30.

One change has been made in the Cornhusker slate. The Nebraska-Minnesota game at Minneapolis has been moved back to December 13. It was originally scheduled for December 11.

A Real Good Poker Hand

If you want to cheer for Beck, or Sterup, or Cookson, of Johnson when Hastings college faces the Plainsmen of Nebraska Wesleyan University here tonight, look at your program closely.

The Hastings roster lists not just two Sterups, two Cooksons, and two Johnsons, but three Becks as well.

Add to the confusion Wesleyan's pair of Nelsons and you've got confusion plus.

So when the barker calls, "You can't enjoy the game without a program," he won't be kidding.

People Tell Truth, Judge Jacobson Finds

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

If you've ever wondered about the basic honesty of the individuals in your society, talk to Municipal Judge John Jacobson and he'll clear up a lot of doubts.

Little more than six months ago, Judge Jacobson took over the duties as Municipal Judge by appointment of the governor after the resignation of Edward Fisher. Since taking over the post, Judge Jacobson has gained some strong impressions, many of them worth passing on:

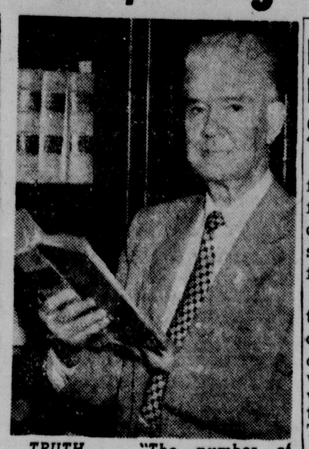
"It's been my impression," the Judge says, "that people tell the truth, even when it's likely to hurt them." The important factor of the court, therefore, Judge Jacobson says, is to be sure that each individual is given a full and fair hearing, and that from this hearing comes a fair and impartial consideration by the court.

Fairness Stressed

The judge, backed by active practice in all Lincoln courts since 1916, thinks that giving a fair and impartial consideration to each case is the prime factor in the faith and confidence the people have in the courts. Many people, the judge points out, have their first personal contact with government in the Municipal Courts.

"Sometimes this responsibility is frightening," the judge explains, "but realizing this fact makes us try even harder to make this court the Servant of the people it deserves to be."

The lower court magistrate, who formerly was city attorney for 4 years, points out that literally thousands of people appear before court year in and year out. For this reason alone, Judge Jacobson says, "our courts have a very important part in the very attitude of a community."



TRUTH . . . "The number of people who believe in it is heartening," according to Municipal Judge John Jacobson. (Star Staff Photo.)

Are Basic Concept

A graduate of the University of Nebraska Law College, the judge points out that all courts, especially the Municipal branch, should at all times hold true to the original concept of the law: That courts shall act only as courts, not correctional or educational institutions.

It necessarily follows, the judge explains, that people get a closer inspection of the laws when they appear before the court, especially if the proper and correct administration is in force.

"That's why I consider it essential and of first importance to give everyone a full and fair hearing. The truth is a wonderful thing, and you'd be heartened at the great number of people who believe in it."

Browning Warren Fined $105 On Two Speed Violations

Browning Warren, 2724 Stratford, pleaded guilty Thursday before Municipal Judge John Jacobson to two charges, one for speeding in zone limits, the other for speeding at night.

The two charges brought to 35 the number of violations the Lincoln realtor and farmer has accumulated in the past 12 years, in which he amassed more than $400 worth of fines. For the two violations to which he pleaded guilty Thursday, Warren was fined $105.

Included in his traffic records are violations charging him with careless and reckless driving, numerous speeding violations, and several for violation of stop signs. A number of traffic charges brought against him have been dismissed.

Estate Of Mrs. Lake Estimated At $54,000

An appraisal of the estate of Mrs. Barbara Lake, filed in County Court, estimates the total worth of the estate at $57,000.

Mrs. Gertrude E. Sullivan, Guy M. Lake of Lincoln, Mrs. Grace M. Moomey, and Fred D. Lake, all children of Mrs. Lake, were named as heirs in her will. The estate is to be divided equally among them.

A. C. Wedemeyer Contributes $100 To Jenner Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—A preliminary report by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) on contributions received thus far in his campaign for re-election lists one contribution of $100 from A. C. Wedemeyer.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, former Nebraskan, has been a critic of administration foreign policies. He was a supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) for the GOP presidential nomination.

Schools Conducting Children's Aid Survey

A preliminary survey of children for whom federal financial assistance may be claimed is being conducted by Lincoln Public Schools.

The survey is being made to determine whether Lincoln Schools may claim federal funds under provisions of Public Laws 815 and 874, passed by the 81st Congress. It is completely unpolitical, said Ed Wahl, principal of Everett Junior High School.

The federal law provides for "financial assistance for local educational agencies upon which the United States has placed financial burdens." Wahl pointed out that it is possible that the reactivation of the Air Base may enable federal assistance.

A preliminary survey was started last year by the late Hal Mardis, Wahl said, but requirements could not be met then.

The law applies to individuals residing on federal property and local school patrons employed by a local firm or firms.

The total number of children necessary to qualify must equal or exceed 3 per cent of the average daily attendance. In Lincoln this would be somewhat more than 400 students.

Titus Is Sentenced To Seven Years In State Penitentiary

According to word received by Lancaster County Sheriff Merle Karnopp, Derold Titus, 21, Crete, pleaded guilty to a parole violation charge and was sentenced Thursday in Saline County District Court to serve seven years in the state penitentiary.

Titus pleaded guilty to a burglary charge in Lancaster County Court. He admitted breaking into four Hickman stores and attempting to enter two others. Titus allegedly stole merchandise valued at $270 from two of the four places he entered.

At the time of the robberies, Titus was on parole from a Saline County breaking and entering charge. The parole carried the stipulation that he not leave the county during the period of his probation.

40 To 50 Cases Daily In Municipal Court, Judge Tells Lions

Approximately 40 to 50 cases are handled daily in Municipal Court, Judge John Jacobson told Lions Club members at their weekly meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

Judge Jacobson, in outlining the functions and powers of Municipal Court, said that during the last fiscal year, the gross amount of money handled by the court totalled about $170,000, of which the majority went to public schools. About $34,000 went to the city for support of the court, he said.

Communism Losing, President Declares

GOP Isolationist Policy Would Imperil Gains, Fair Crowd Told

DETROIT (AP)—President Truman said Thursday night the nation is reaching a turning point in the worldwide struggle against Communism and "the balances are moving in our favor."

But the President, campaigning to put Adlai Stevenson in the White House as his successor, added a quick warning that progress toward peace would be imperilled by "Republican isolationist policies of withdrawal, of feeble half-measures, of appeasement and surrender."

Attacks Ike

Then, in a speech prepared fofr a big crowd at the Michigan State Fair Grounds, Truman resumed his running offensive against GOP presidential nomine Dwight D. Eisenhower, declaring:

"He has put fear in the hearts of free people all over the world by his loose talk about the fighting in Korea."

"His campaign tactics are injuring the unity with which this country is supporting the brave and necessary effort of its fighting men there."

"He has talked about his country's policies in such a way that Soviet Delegate Vishinsky has been able to use his statements while attacking this country in the United Nations."

'Big Lie' Used

Truman blasted Eisenhower's foreign policy views while assailing the Republicans in scathing terms on two aspects of home front policy:

1. He said the GOP has adopted, with Eisenhower's consent, the "big lie" tactics of the Nazis and Communists. "You cannot trust your human rights to a party that is running on the coat-tails of Wisconsin (Senator) Joe McCarthy," the President declared.

2. He accused Republicans in Congress of delaying civil rights legislation because of a "sordid bargain" with the Dixiecrats. A deal, Truman said, which the Republicans counted on to split the South and elect a Republican President this year.

That, Truman said, "lies behind the hullabaloo you have heard this year about Republican candidate for President in Texas and Louisiana and South Carolina. That's one of the things behind his great crusade."

There was scarcely a pause Thursday, as Truman whistle-stopped across Michigan with its 20 electoral votes, in the verbal artillery he unleashed against Eisenhower.

The President said the general's "casual pledge, over a cup of coffee," at his breakfast conference with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, "could mean the difference between peace and a third World War."

Mind Made Up Long Ago

He said: "It was shortly after the people chose me as President in 1948 that I decided definitely I would not run for President again. Two and a half years ago, I put that decision down on a piece of paper that I still have.

"As 1952 approached, I began to think of the many good men in the Democratic party who could carry on the programs and traditions of the party. I talked with several of them.

"One of them was a man I did not know very well, who had built up a tremendous reputation as governor of Illinois. That man was Adlai Stevenson."

Rayburn Comments

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)— Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, heading the Texas Stevenson-Sparkman campaign, issued a statement Thursday after learning of the firing of his assistant, Col. Lawrence Westbrook. It said in part:

"Col. Lawrence Westbrook, a native Texan, has been in Texas for the last few weeks at the instance of the National Democratic Committee to assist in the liaison work between the committee and our own state campaign for the Democratic ticket. This state campaign has been from its beginning directed by me as chairman of the Stevenson-Sparkman Campaign Committee.

"The campaign has been and is a strictly Texas operation. Whatever Col. Westbrook's other activities may be they have no bearing on the campaign in Texas."

DEMOCRATS

DETROIT, Mich. (INS)—President Truman revealed Thursday night that he decided shortly after his 1948 victory not to run again for President.

I'M GOIN' HUNTIN'—California's hundreds of thousands of hunters welcomed in the 1952 fall duck hunting season. Three-year-old Ronnie Beronio of Vallejo, Calif., wearing his best "Don't bother me, I'm goin' huntin'" look, carries his decoys and toy shotgun toward his favorite blind in the Suisun Marshes. REPUBLICANS

FRESNO, Calif. (INS)—Sen. William S. Knowland predicted that Dwight D. Eisenhower will win the presidency with more than 320 electoral votes and will carry California by more than a 250,000-vote majority.

Knowland Optimistic

Knowland's forecast was made at a Republican rally in Fresno as he substituted for Gov. Earl Warren, whose speaking date was cancelled because of an itinerary mixup.

California's senior senator also declared that the Truman administration has suppressed facts about the Korean War.

Knowland lauded Eisenhower's promise to investigate Korean conditions personally and said he was curious to know why neither President Truman nor Secretary of State Acheson had gone to the Far East.

It's an oil portrait of Gen. Eisenhower by J. E. Markley, Topeka artist.

Instructions on the package read:

"Don't open till the arrival of the next President."

Housewives Urged Use 'Take-It-Easy' Philosophy

"A woman has no right to trade intellectual improvement for a marriage license," said Mrs. Anna May Wilson Thursday evening as she described a "take-it-easy" kitchen for homes.

She was speaking at the annual Ellen Richards banquet at the University of Nebraska sponsored by the Home Economics Club in honor of the founder of home economics.

Mrs. Wilson, a writer in the American Medical Association's Today's Health magazine, said that women should develop and use the "take-it-easy" philosophy not only to save their hearts but to continue "being people."

A member of the "Heart of the Home" committee of the Chicago Heart Association, Mrs. Wilson, who has combined homemaking and a career, urged women to "pursue mental health along with pursuing better physical health."

She stressed the philosophy of the home economic founder which encouraged women to control and utilize material things to have energy to make a better life.

The speaker described the "take-it-easy" kitchen now in display at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago which, she says, shows how the principles of work simplification developed by industry can be used in a kitchen to meet needs of all housewives.

Her model kitchen includes convenient heights for all work places, grouping of equipment, placement of everything within easy reach, a high oven, no low deep storage places, a comfortable eating place and space for relaxation.

Five University of Nebraska College of Agriculture faculty members were honored at the banquet for outstanding service. They are:

Florence Corbin, Carolyn Ruby, Bess Steele, Evelyn Metzger and Ruth Staples.

A tribute to Ellen Richards was given by Phyllis Zeilinger of David City. Jeanne Vierk of Lincoln, president of The Home Economic Club, served as toastmistress, and Jo Meyer of Holdrege was banquet chairman.

'A' Terms Will Be Explained

The atomic energy project has brought a lot of strange new words and phrases into the American vocabulary. Many of these terms will be explained at the atomic energy exhibit to be on display in Lincoln Nov. 2-6.

Sponsored by the Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star, the Oak Ridge exhibit will be shown at the Military and Naval Science Building, 14th and Vine, on the University of Nebraska campus.

Traveling under the auspices of the National University Extension Division, the exhibit includes 30 sections of graphic apparatus to present, visually, elementary atomic physics and applications of atomic science.

Features of the exhibit are an atomic furnace which demonstrates the splitting of the uranium atom, a Van de Graff generator which produces a charge capable of standing a head of human hair on end and a dime irradiator which makes dimes radioactive.

Dimes which have been made radioactive will be distributed to visitors as souvenirs. The radiation is short-lived and harmless.

Air Force Captain Admits Aid To Japs

NEW YORK (AP)—A government witness admitted Thursday that he was a wartime interpreter for the Japanese as was former Sgt. John D. Provoo.

The witness, Capt. Richard Sakakida, gave the same excuse as Provoo for serving the enemy after his 1942 capture on Corregidor—fear of death if he refused.

Provoo, 35, an American-born disciple of the Buddhist religion of the Orient, is on trial for his life on treason charges.

He is accused of going over to the Japanese after his capture, broadcasting their propaganda and turning American fellow-prisoners over to them for torture and—in one case—execution.

Sakakida, a wartime sergeant but now a bemedalled Air Force officer, said he broadcast surrender messages to the Japanese from Corregidor at the orders of Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. (Skinny) Wainwright, the American leader on Corregidor.

Two Nebraskans Members Of Navy Band

The roster of the U. S. Navy Band includes two Nebraskans—MUC M. E. Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ford of Oakland and MU2/C Kaid Friedel, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Friedel of Hastings.

Friedel, 22-year-old French horn player, is one of the youngest members of the band. After enlisting in the Navy in February, 1951, he was assigned to the Navy's school of music, where he was a student and instructor for one year, before joining the top Navy band seven months ago.

He considers himself lucky, but it wasn't all luck. Friedel, graduated from Hastings High School in 1948, but by extension. He had left school the year before to study the French horn in the east.

16-Year Veteran

The other Nebraskan, Chief Musician Ford, is a 16-year veteran with the Navy's musical organizations. After graduating from high school in 1933, he was a dance band drummer for a year or so before enlisting in the Navy.

As a percussion expert—which includes everything from drums to xylophone—Ford has played with various ship and shores bands in the Navy, served as instructor for six years at the Navy school of music, and is presently snare drummer and a member of the arranging staff with the official Navy band.

Westbrook Is Fired For Metal Deal

Mitchell Ousts Demo Official For Attempted '5 Per Cent' Operation

WASHINGTON (INS)— General Services Administrator Jess Larson Thursday launched a "top to bottom" probe of the nine million dollar tungsten deal which cost a high Democratic official his job for attempted "five per-centing."

Larson disclosed at a news conference that a "misplaced letter" figured in the deal which led to the summary ouster of Col. Lawrence Westbrook as a top-ranking aid to Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell.

Mitchell fired Westbrook for helping to negotiate a nine million dollar contract between the U.S. government and a Portuguese mining firm. The Democratic chief said that Westbrook, who stood to make $200,000, worked on the deal while on the party payroll.

Larson, the government's stockpiling director, said he personally will direct the full-scale investigation to determine whether any federal employes were involved in the "five per cent" operation and whether any law was violated.

The GSA boss added: "If I find any wrongdoing, I will disclose it to the public and take disciplinary action against any employe involved." He said the investigation will extend to U. S. officials in Europe as well as in Washington.

Larson expressed "grave concern" over the "mislaying" of a letter from the Portuguese firm promising a fee to Westbrook and his partner, Heinz Pulverman, for their services in helping to negotiate the huge contract.

The GSA official said the letter was found in the Emergency Procurement Agency's files on an entirely different matter, and that it never came to the attention of the Defense Materials Procurement Agency, where it should have gone.

Larson said: "It is of grave concern to me why it did not. I have questioned my top assistants, but none of them had any recollection of the mislaid paper. If I find anyone deliberately removed it, I will dismiss him and make every effort to discover his motive."

Larson said that so far as he knows, Westbrook violated no law. He said he had met Westbrook only once and recalled that the Democratic official had mentioned the world tungsten situation and the availability of supplies in Spain and Portugal.

Westbrook, in Dallas, Tex., insisted he had done "nothing wrong."

The GSA cancelled the tungsten contract last Monday.

The contract for the vitally needed defense mineral, used in the manufacture of atomic weapons, was cancelled on recommendation of Brig. Gen. Tom B. Wilson, chief of the U.S. Strategic Materials Procurement Mission in Europe.

Westbrook charged in a published interview that Wilson was involved with an "international group" attempting to "cash in on the need of the United States for strategic materials obtainable in Europe."

A GSA spokesman promptly retorted that this was a "fantastic accusation" made by a "disgruntled person."

The tungsten deal was called off because the Portuguese company sought to buy the metal in the open market for resale to the U. S. instead of supplying the commodity from its own mines.

Larson said he would have cancelled the contract earlier had he known that "five per-centing" figured in the pact between the United States and the Portuguese Companhia Atlantica, which Westbrook represented as "sales agent" with power of attorney.

Deadline Set To Reinstate GI Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 1,200,000 veterans have no more—and in some cases much less—than 14 months to reinstate 10 billion dollars worth of term life insurance policies which have lapsed.

The Veterans Administration said Thursday that unless reinstatements are made in that time the policies "will be lost forever."

The policies involved are lapsed term National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) that were issued to two groups of World War II and post-World War II veterans.

1. The 1,100,000 World War II veterans who took out term NSLI policies while they were in service during the last two months of 1944 and all of 1945.

2. The 100,000 World War II and post-World War II veterans who took out term NSLI policies while they were in service during the last two months of 1947 and all of 1948.

The first group have eight-year term policies and the second group have five-year term policies. Both terms expire during the last two months of this year or during next year, depending upon the anniversary date of each policy.

The Veterans Administration said that if veterans in either group do not wish to lose this coverage altogether they must reinstate their policies before the terms expire.

Meyer Named To Attorney General Office

Clarence A. H. Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Meyer of Pender, has been appointed deputy attorney general succeeding the late William Gleeson, effective Nov. 1, Attorney General C. S. Beck announced.

C. A. H. Meyer

Meyer has been an assistant attorney general since Dec. 1, 1949, and like his predecessor will have to take a pay reduction in his new post. Salary of the deputy is fixed by law at $5,400 a year by statute while assistants' salaries have been increased by attorney generals to $6,000 in order to recruit the legal staff.

After graduation from the University of Nebraska Law College, Meyer was in private practice at Pender from 1933 to 1940 when he went to work for the federal Department of Justice assigned to prosecution of illegal entries into the U. S. along the Canadian border.

In 1942, he went into the Army Air Force and was a major in the China-Burma-India theater participating in the "hump" operation. He was awarded the Bronze Star and China Air Force medals.

He returned to Lincoln and was appointed chairman of the employment service appeal tribunal which post he held until appointed to the staff of attorney general.

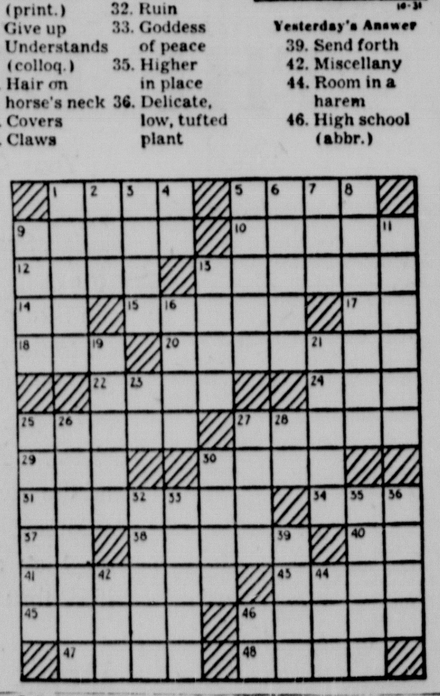
Yesterday's Answer



ONE MAN'S OPINION By Walter Kiernan

(Distributed by International News Service)

One thing certain about this election . . . it will take us until Thanksgiving to get the mud out of our ears.

☆ ☆ ☆

Most of us who covered both conventions in Chicago came away with the feeling that both parties had nominated presidential candidates of good character and reputation.

☆ ☆ ☆

To listen to the low punchers on either side we couldn't have done worse if we had gotten them from a prison parole board, bribed to turn them loose.

☆ ☆ ☆

Some of the people who complained about the low neckline in television seem to find nothing immoral in the low blow on the same medium.

☆ ☆ ☆

There are times in this campaign when we have been unsure as to whether Eisenhower was nominated or indicted . . . or whether Stevenson was running for President or from a Grand Jury.

Arrival Of Cash Corn Halts Rise

CHICAGO (AP)—An expansion in arrivals of cash corn brought a halt Thursday to the rousing upturn corn prices have been enjoying this week on the Board of Trade.

Other grains retreated with corn, largely because of limited demand rather than any heavy selling, but soybeans and lard scored modest gains. Feature in soybeans was quite a bit of short covering in the November contract, on which deliveries of cash beans can be made Monday.

Wheat closed 5-1⅞ lower, corn ½-1¼ lower; oats unchanged to ½ lower, rye ¼-⅝ lower, soybeans ⅜-1¾ higher and lard 2 to 27 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Cash corn receipts totaled 332 cars. This was considerably higher than Wednesday. Brokers attributed the increase to the price advanced this week, which had got back most of last week's sharp losses in the cash grain. They felt there was plenty more surplus grain which could come to market.

Denmark bought a cargo of soybeans. Other export business included the sale of two cargoes of hard wheat to Austria and of small lots of corn to Holland. Austria may soon be taking more wheat and Portugal also is expected in the market, trade sources said.

Lard's rally was viewed as mainly technical. This commodity has been sinking to new seasonal lows almost daily and traders felt it was entitled to a rally. Loose lard remained unchanged at 8¾ cents a pound. Oats were off with corn. Rye showed early firmness, fading later with the bulk of the grain list.

Stocks Wallow As Election Nears

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Thursday was stamped with the same dullness that has characterized it all of this week.

There seems to be a feeling in Wall Street that there are only two more trading days until the Presidential election, so why do anything.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks remained unchanged at $104.80. The industrial and railroad components also held unchanged while utilities add 10 cents.

Volume was at the familiar restricted level —1,090,000 shares as compared with 1,020,000 shares traded Wednesday.

Lower stocks included Paramount Pictures off ¼ at 22⅛, Eastman Kodak ⅝ at 42, Studebaker ¾ at 34¼, Goodrich ½ at 63½, and Boeing ⅝ at 38.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market advanced modestly Thursday without any part of the corporate list displaying particular strength.

U.S. Government bonds were unchanged to 6/32 higher, reversing Wednesday's range.

Foreign liens were mixed. Japanese issues declined nominally.

Wall Streeters say the market is in a pre-election lull. Trading is in the hands of "professionals," they claim. Almost all changes are small and activity is sluggish. Volume totaled $2,663,000 Wednesday.

Young GOP Transport Only To Sick, Aged

Misunderstanding of a plan to provide transportation to the polls for Lincoln voters was cleared up Thursday night at a meeting of the University of Nebraska Young Republicans.

An announcement in the University newspaperr, The Daily Nebraskan, that the group would sponsor a carpool to transport "any Lincolnites" to the polls drew a warning from local Democrats.

Mrs Dorothy Diaz, chairwoman of the aLncaster County Young Democrats, pointed out that on the basis of the report the group would be violating Section 32-1128 of the State Corrupt Practices Act. An exception in the section provides that sick and disabled persons may receive such assistance.

Report Erroneous

Max Harding, state organizer of the Nebraska Young Republicans who met with the University group, said the report was erroneous.

"We are organizing a car pool—and urging both Republicans and Democrats to assist us—to aid any sick, disabled or elderly person in getting to the polls," Harding asserted.

Preliminary Plans

Meeting at Republican Headqquarters at 10th and P, the group made preliminary plans for a last-minute distribution of campaign literature and posters on election eve.

On election night the group will hold a "watch party" at the Continental Cafe, awaiting nationwide election results, according to Dan Tolman, president.

Winner of the "Youngest Voter" contest sponsored by the group was Miss aBrabara Lucas, Omaha senior majoring in English. Miss Lucas' 21st birthday was on Oct. 29th.

Lyons Farmer Sentenced For Draft Dodging

OMAHA (AP)—Stanley Dale Sydow, 22-year-old Lyons farmer, Thursday was sentenced to three years in the Federal penitentiary for draft dodging.

Sydow was sentenced after Judge James A. Donohoe overruled a motion to set aside a jury's verdict of guilty and another for a new trial.

Fike Farmer, Nashville, Tenn., who abandoned his regular law practice several years ago to become a promoter of world law, indicated outside the courtroom he would appeal his client's case to the Circuit Court.

Questions Oath

The six-foot youth, dressed in blue denims and a leather jacket, was asked if he had anything to say before sentencing: "Yes, judge, have you read my lawyer's briefs?"

Judge Donohoe assured him that he had read the briefs. Then Farmer took over.

"May I see the oath you took when you were sworn into office?" Farmer asked the judge.

Judge Donohoe ordered a copy brought from his chambers and it was handed to Farmer. The attorney then started to discuss the oath and his client's case.

Judge Donohoe interrupted to remind Farmer that "I have been very patient with you, your client and his parents."

He said unless Farmer had something constructive to say, he would like to proceed with the sentencing. Then the judge remanded Sydow to the custody of the U. S. marshal for three years.
